Training Requirements 2 of 2

Under Clery Act, must receive annual training on:

- Issues related to sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking
- How to conduct an investigation and hearing process that protects the safety of victims and promotes accountability

Disclaimer

We can't help ourselves. We're lawyers.

- We are not giving you legal advice. Consult with your legal counsel regarding how best to address a specific situation.
- Ask general questions and hypotheticals.
- This training is not being recorded, but we will provide you with a packet of the training to post on your websites for Title IX compliance.

Presentation Rules

- Questions are encouraged
- "For the sake of argument..." questions help to challenge the group, consider other perspectives, and move the conversation forward
- Be aware of your own responses and experiences
- Follow-up with someone if you have any questions or concerns
- Take breaks as needed

Themes

Themes (1 of 2)

- Title IX meant to ensure equitable access, regardless of sex
- We have an obligation to protect our community – including both parties
- Transparency in the process encourages participation, reduces stress, and increases trust in the outcome

Themes (2 of 2)

- Use language of the policy (complainant, respondent, report), not language of criminal law (victim/survivor, perpetrator, allegation)
- Be incredibly mindful not to prejudge the outcome of the case
- Base decisions on evidence, not your “gut”

Sexual Harassment - IX

- Sexual harassment means conduct on the basis of sex that satisfies one or more of the following:
 - o [\[Quid pro quo\]](#) An employee of the University conditioning the provision of an aid, benefit, or service of the University on an individual's participation in unwelcome sexual conduct;
 - o [\[Unwelcome conduct\]](#) Unwelcome conduct determined by a reasonable person to be so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that it effectively denies a person equal access to the University's education program or activity; or
 - o [\[Clery crimes\]](#) Sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking

- Sexual Assault

Rape (non-consensual penile/vaginal penetration)

Sodomy (non-consensual oral/anal penetration)

Sexual Assault with an Object (penetration with object or body part other than genitalia)

Fondling – Must be done “for the purpose of sexual gratification”

Incest – Look to state law

Statutory rape – Look to state law

Data and Statistics

- o Should not influence your decision in any particular Title IX case
- o Included in the Preamble, but with caveats
- o We didn’t do the research ourselves and can’t vouch for it
- o Okay but really, this SHOULD NOT influence your decision in any particular Title IX case

Sexual Assault Data

- 43.6% of women and 24.8% of men experienced some form of contact sexual violence in their lifetime, with 4.7% and 3.5% experiencing such violence in the 12 months preceding the survey.

Statistics from the National Intimate Partner and Sexual Violence Survey (NISVS), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, 2015 Data Brief, available online at https://www.cdc.gov/violenceprevention/datasources/nisvs/2015NISVSdatabrief.html (last visited June 2020).

Sexual Assault Data: Prevalence Data for Postsecondary Institutions

- More than 50 percent of college sexual assaults occur in August, September, October, or November, and students are at an increased risk during the first few months of their first and second semesters in college.

Preamble, p. 30076 (Official) notes that "Commenters cited: Rape, Abuse & Incest National Network (RAINN), Campus Sexual Violence: Statistics, <https://www.rainn.org/statistics/campus-sexual-violence>."

Sexual Harassment: Dating Violence

"Dating Violence" means an act of violence committed on the basis of sex by a person who is or has been in a romantic or intimate relationship with the complainant. The existence of such a romantic or intimate relationship is determined by the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interactions between the individuals involved in the relationship.

Sexual Harassment: Domestic Violence

"Domestic violence" is an act of violence committed on the basis of sex by:

- A current or former spouse or intimate partner of the complainant;
- A person with whom the complainant shares a child in common;
- A person who is cohabitating with, or has cohabitated with, the complainant as a spouse or intimate partner;
- A person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic/family violence laws of the jurisdiction;
- Any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person's acts under the domestic/family violence laws of the jurisdiction

Data: Intimate Partner Violence

"Nearly 1 in 5 women and about 1 in 7 men report having experienced severe physical violence from an intimate partner in their lifetime."

"41% of female IPV survivors and 14% of male IPV survivors experience some form of physical injury related to IPV."

"1 in 6 homicide victims are killed by a current or former intimate partner."

Source: CDC.gov, "Preventing Intimate Partner Violence" fact sheet, accessed Sept. 20, 2020.

Sexual Harassment: Stalking

"Stalking" is engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person on the basis of sex that would cause a reasonable person with similar characteristics under similar circumstances to:

- Fear for the person's safety or the safety of others; or
- Suffer substantial emotional distress.

As mentioned before, to qualify under Title IX, it must be sex-based stalking. (30172 fn. 772)

Stalking: Course of Conduct

"Course of Conduct"

- Under VAWA regulations: means two or more acts, including, but not limited to, acts in which the stalker directly, indirectly, or through third parties, by any action, method, device, or means, follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens, or communicates to or about a person, or interferes with a person's property.

23

Stalking: Reasonable Person

"Reasonable person"

Under VAWA regulations: means a reasonable person under similar circumstances and with similar identities to the victim.

24

Stalking: Substantial Emotional Distress

“Substantial emotional distress”

Under VAWA regulations: means significant mental suffering or anguish that may, but does not necessarily, require medical or other professional treatment or counseling.

25

Stalking Data - 1

- 4.5 million women and 2.1 million men are stalked in one year in the United States.
- Over 85% of stalking victims are stalked by someone they know.
- 61% of female victims and 44% of male victims of stalking are stalked by a current or former intimate partner.

- First statistic: National Intimate Partner and Sexual Violence Survey: 2015 Data Brief (CDC)
- Second and third statistics: National Intimate Partner and Sexual Violence Survey: 2010-2012 State Report (CDC)

Stalking Data - 2

- 11% of stalking victims have been stalked for 5 years or more.
- 46% of stalking victims experience at least one unwanted contact per week.

[Katrina Baum et al., (2009). "Stalking Victimization in the United States," (Washington, DC: BJS, 2009).]

27

Impact of Stalking on Victims

- 46% of stalking victims fear not knowing what will happen next.

[Baum et al., (2009), "Stalking Victimization in the United States." BJS.]

- 29% of stalking victims fear the stalking will never stop.

[Baum et al.]

More Impact of Stalking

- 1 in 8 employed stalking victims lose time from work as a result of their victimization and more than half lose 5 days of work or more.

- 1 in 7 stalking victims move as a result of their victimization.

[Baum et al.]

- The prevalence of anxiety, insomnia, social dysfunction, and severe depression is much higher among stalking victims.

29

Overview of Your Policy/Process

30

Overview of the Process: Supportive Measures (1 of 5)

- Non-disciplinary and non-punitive
- Individualized
- “As reasonably available”
- Without fee or charge to either party
- Available at any time (regardless of whether a formal complaint is filed)

33

Overview of the Process: Supportive Measures (2 of 5)

Designed to:

- o restore or preserve access to the University's education program or activity, without unreasonably burdening the other party;
- o protect the safety of all parties and the University's educational environment; and
- o deter sexual harassment

Overview of the Process: Supportive Measures (3 of 5)

- | | |
|--|--|
| • Counseling | • Changes in work or housing locations |
| • Extensions of deadlines (course-related adjustments) | • Leaves of absence |
| • Modifications of work/class schedules | • Increased security and monitoring of certain areas of the campus |
| • Campus escort services | • "and other similar measures" |
| • Mutual contact restrictions | |

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

35

Overview of the Process: Supportive Measures (4 of 5)

Role of the TIXC upon receiving a report:

- promptly contact the complainant to discuss the availability of supportive measures as defined in § 106.30,
- consider the complainant's wishes with respect to supportive measures,
- inform the complainant of the availability of supportive measures with or without the filing of a formal complaint

Overview of the Process: Supportive Measures (5 of 5)

- Must maintain confidentiality to the greatest extent possible
- Note: Title IX Coordinator may ask you to help with accommodations and may not be able to tell you all the details as to why.

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

37

Formal Complaints

38

Overview of the Process: Formal Complaint (1 of 2)

A document filed by a complainant or signed by the Title IX Coordinator alleging Prohibited Conduct against a respondent and requesting the University investigate the allegations

- In response to a formal complaint, University must follow a grievance process (set by 106.45)
- Title IX Coordinator must offer complainant supportive measures (regardless if files formal complaint – if complainant does not want to file a formal complaint)

Overview of the Process: Formal Complaint (2 of 2)

Once a Formal Complaint is filed, there are four possibilities:

- Informal Resolution
- Formal Grievance Process (Hearing)
- Mandatory Dismissal from Hearing Process and Resolution through Investigative Process
- Formal Complaint is withdrawn

40

Conducting an Investigation

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

41

Formal Process

42

Overview of the Process: Formal Grievance Process

Basic requirements:

- Treat complainants and respondents equitably
- Follow grievance process
- Only impose any disciplinary sanctions against a respondent after grievance process followed

Includes the presumption that respondent is not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility is made through the grievance process

Overview of the Process: Written Notice

- University's grievance process and informal resolution process
- Allegations with sufficient time for review with sufficient detail, such as date, location if known
- Parties may have an advisor of choice

Overview of the Process: Investigation (1 of 4)

- Only of a formal complaint
- Burden of proof and evidence gathering rests with University
- Cannot access, require, disclose, or consider treatment records of a party without that party's voluntary, written consent
- Provide equal opportunity for parties to present witnesses (fact and expert)

45

Overview of the Process: Investigation (2 of 4)

- Provide equal opportunity for parties to present inculpatory and exculpatory evidence
- Not restrict ability of either party to discuss or gather and present relevant evidence
- Provide parties same opportunities to have others present during the grievance process, including advisor of choice

Overview of the Process: Investigation (3 of 4)

- Provide written notice of date, time, location, participants, and purpose of all hearings, investigative interviews, or other meetings with sufficient time to prepare
- Provide both parties equal opportunity to inspect and review any evidence obtained in the investigation – University must send to party and party's advisor with at least 10 days to submit a written response before completion of investigation report

Overview of the Process: Investigation (4 of 4)

- University must make all such evidence subject to inspection and review at any hearing
- Create an investigation report at least 10 days before a hearing that fairly summarizes the relevant evidence and send to each party and party's advisor

Dismissal (1 of 3)

- University MUST investigate allegations in a formal complaint
- BUT University MUST dismiss from the hearing process is
 - if conduct alleged would not constitute Sexual Harassment – Title IX, even if proven, OR
 - Conduct did not occur within University's education program or activity or in the United States

Dismissal (2 of 3)

- University MUST investigate allegations in a formal complaint
- BUT University MUST dismiss from the hearing process is
 - if conduct alleged would not constitute Sexual Harassment – Title IX, even if proven, OR
 - Conduct did not occur within University's education program or activity or in the United States

51

Dismissal (3 of 3)

- Cases not eligible for a Title IX hearing go instead to:
 - Investigation
 - Decision (potentially by investigator, without Title IX hearing)
 - Appeal

52

Conducting a Hearing

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

53

Overview of the Title IX Process: Hearings

- Must provide a live, cross-examination hearing
- Parties must have an advisor and the University must provide an advisor for a party if the party does not have one
- Advisors ask only relevant cross-examination questions—no party-on-party questioning
- May be virtual, but must be recorded or transcribed

The Setup

- Can have in one room if a party doesn't request separate rooms and recipient chooses to do so.
- Separate rooms with technology allowing live cross examination at the request of either party
- "At recipient's discretion, can allow any or all participants to participate in the live hearing virtually" (30332, see also 30333, 30346) explaining 106.45(b)(6)(i)

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

Process (1 of 2)

- Discretion to provide opportunity for opening or closing statements
- Discretion to provide direct questioning (open-ended, non-cross questions)
- Cross-examination must to be done by the party's "advisor of choice and never by a party personally."

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

Process (2 of 2)

- An advisor of choice may be an attorney or a parent (or witness) (30319)
- Discretion to require advisors to be "potted plants" outside of their roles cross-examining parties and witnesses. (30312)

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

Advisors

If a party does not have an advisor present at the live hearing, the recipient must provide without fee or charge to that party, an advisor of the recipient's choice, who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney, to conduct cross-examination on behalf of that party. (106.45(b)(6)(i) and preamble 30339)

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

58

Advisors: But Other Support People?

- Not in the hearing, unless required by law (30339)
- “These confidentiality obligations may affect a recipient’s ability to offer parties a recipient-provided advisor to conduct cross-examination in addition to allowing the parties’ advisors of choice to appear at the hearing.”
- ADA accommodations-required by law
- CBA require advisor and attorney?

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

59

Recording the Hearing

- Now required to be audio, audio visual, or in transcript form
- Decision-makers have to know how to use any technology you have

The Hearing

- Order of questioning parties and witnesses – not in regulations
 - o Consider time restraints on witnesses
 - o Questioning of Complainant
 - o Questioning of Respondent

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

61

Questioning by the Decision-Maker (1 of 2)

- The neutrality of the decision-maker role is and the role of the advisor to ask adversarial questions, protects the decision-maker from having to be neutral while also taking on an adversarial role (30330)
- “[P]recisely because the recipient must provide a neutral, impartial decision-maker, the function of adversarial questioning must be undertaken by persons who owe no duty of impartiality to the parties” (30330)

Questioning by the Decision-Maker (2 of 2)

- BUT “the decision-maker has the right and responsibility to ask questions and elicit information from parties and witnesses on the decision-makers own initiative to aid the decision-maker in obtaining relevant evidence both inculpatory and exculpatory, and the parties also have equal rights to present evidence in front of the decision-maker so the decision-maker has the benefit of perceiving each party’s unique perspective about the evidence.” (30331)

The Hearing (1 of 2)

- Ruling on relevancy between every question and answer by a witness or party
 - Set expectation that party or witness cannot answer question before decision-maker decides if relevant.

The Hearing (2 of 2)

- Confidentiality appears to preclude support persons other than the advisor from participating in the live-cross examination hearing
 - Perhaps allow support person to meet in waiting rooms or before and after hearing
 - Consistent with providing supportive services to both parties – hearings can be very stressful for both parties

65

Live Cross-Examination: Theory

According to the Department, the process in 106.45 best achieves the purposes of:

- (1) effectuating Title IX's non-discrimination mandate by ensuring fair, reliable outcomes viewed as legitimate in resolution of formal complaints of sexual harassment so that victims receive remedies
- (2) reducing and preventing sex bias from affecting outcomes; and
- (3) ensuring that Title IX regulations are consistent with constitutional due process and fundamental fairness (30327)

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

66

Live Cross-Examination: How it should look

"[C]onducting cross-examination consists simply of posing questions intended to advance the asking party's perspective with respect to the specific allegation at issue." (30319)

Live Cross-Examination: Regulations (1 of 2)

In this process:

- Decision-maker must permit each party's advisor to ask the other party and any witnesses all relevant questions and follow-up questions, including those challenging credibility
- Must be conducted directly, orally, and in real time by the party's advisor, but never party personally
- Only relevant cross-examination and other questions may be asked of a party or witness

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

68

Live Cross-Examination: Regulations (2 of 2)

- Before a party or witness may answer a question, the decision-maker must first determine whether the question is relevant and explain the reason if not relevant
- Must audio record, audio-video record or provide a transcript of the hearing

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

69

More Reminders

- Individual cases are not about statistics
- Decision in every case must be based on preponderance of evidence or clear and convincing evidence presented
- Cannot fill in evidentiary gaps with statistics, personal beliefs or information about trauma
- Process must be fair and impartial to each party
- Institution may proceed without active involvement of one or both parties; base conclusions on impartial view of evidence presented

70

Reminders

- Withhold pre-judgment: The parties may not act as you expect them to
- Be aware of your own biases as well as those of the complainant, respondent, and witnesses
- Let the available facts and standard of proof guide your role in overseeing the live cross-examination hearing, not unfair victim-blaming or societal/personal biases

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

71

Overview of the Process: Determinations (2 of 3)

- Findings of fact
- Conclusions
- Statement of and rationale for each result of each allegation, including determination of responsibility and any disciplinary imposition and whether remedies designed to restore or preserve access to educational program or activity will provided to complainant

72

Overview of the Process: Determinations (3 of 3)

- Procedures and bases for appeal by both parties
- Provide written determination to parties simultaneously

73

Appeal Decisions

74

Overview of the Process: Appeals (1 of 2)

- University must offer to both parties the following bases of appeal:
 - o Procedural irregularity that affected outcome
 - o New evidence not reasonably available at the time regarding responsibility or dismissal that could affect outcome
 - o Conflict of interest or bias by the Title IX Coordinator, investigator, and/or decision-maker that affected the outcome

Overview of the Process: Appeals (2 of 2)

- The decision-maker for the appeal cannot be the same decision-maker from the hearing, or the Title IX Coordinator or investigator
- Must provide both parties a reasonable, equal opportunity to submit a written statement in support of or challenging the determination
- Must issue a written decision describing the result of the appeal and rationale and provide the decision simultaneously to the parties

Informal Resolution

77

Informal Resolutions

Bricker & Eckler LLP © 2022

78

Overview of the Process:
Informal Resolution (1 of 2)

- At any time prior to the determination regarding responsibility, the University may facilitate an informal resolution process, such as mediation, that does not involve a full investigation and adjudication
- University cannot require this and also cannot offer unless a formal complaint is filed

Overview of the Process:
Informal Resolution (2 of 2)

- University can offer informal resolution if:
 - o Provides written notice to the parties
 - o Obtains the parties' voluntary, written consent to the informal process

University cannot offer this option in certain cases of employee sexual harassment of a student

Questions?

81

Fundamental Values in the Title IX Process

Remember your Institutional Ethic of Care

What is our goal?

Compliance, yes, but also...

Trust Engagement Best Evidence

How Do You Build Trust?

Through infusing your process with values

Privacy Predictability

Equity

Transparency Integrity

Value: Equity

"What we do for one, we do for the other" (as appropriate)

- Until we have reached the end of the process, we don't know whether anyone did anything wrong.
- Treat both parties equitably with regard to access to supportive measures, evidence, opportunities to provide information, and in every other respect that is appropriate.

6

Value: Privacy

No one will tell you anything if they don't trust you

- Explain privacy versus confidentiality
- Explain how information is shared
 - Within the investigation
 - With other school officials
 - With advisors
- Connect individuals with confidential resources as necessary
- Remember to collect FERPA forms for advisors when necessary

6

Value: Predictability

Knowing what happens next builds trust in the process.

- Give a copy of the policy at the outset.
- Constantly refer back to policy language to explain:
 - Where we are in the process;
 - What happens next;
 - What the expectations will be for the person.
- Follow your policy and follow your process.
- When you must deviate, fill in the gaps with your institutional ethic of care.

7

Value: Transparency

If they hear nothing, they'll assume you're doing nothing or actively working against them.

- Give regular updates to the parties and their advisors.
- Answer questions truthfully, to the extent permitted considering privacy.
- Be cautious before deciding to withhold anything that may be relevant. What is the concern? Does it serve the parties and the process?

Value: Integrity

Personal integrity – and integrity within the process

- Watch for conflicts of interest and bias so as to be fair and maintain confidence in the process.
- Don't use or share information outside the process. All evidence should be "on the table" for all parties and advisors to see.

HIGHWAY TO THE HEARING ZONE

Highway to a Hearing?

- You must provide a hearing under 34 CFR 106.45 only if the circumstances require it
- Not all sexual misconduct triggers the hearing requirement
- So, think of your highway to a hearing as having checkpoints to get on and off

Checkpoint one: All of these

- Complainant: Complainant was participating or attempting to participate in your education program or activity when formal complaint was filed
- Definition: Reported conduct in formal complaint could constitute "sexual harassment" under Title IX definition if proved
- Setting: Reported conduct occurred in your education program or activity
- U.S.A.: Reported conduct occurred against a person in the United States

What if you lack a factor?

- Use your policy as a roadmap to the off-ramps.
 - Some will tell you it's OK to keep going through the same process.
 - Some will tell you that you should send the case to HR or student conduct or through some other process

Off-Roaded

- If you aren't using the Title IX process:
 - Evidentiary rules may be different
 - Use of advisors may be different
 - Identity of decision-maker(s) may be different
 - Whether there is a hearing at all may be different
- Remember that certain procedural rights are guaranteed in sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking cases – even if they don't go to a Title IX hearing

SCOPE OF YOUR EDUCATION PROGRAM AND ACTIVITY

Education Program/Activity

- 106.2(h) – All the operations of a college or university
- 106.44(a) – Includes locations, events, or circumstances over which the recipient exercised substantial control over both the respondent and the context in which the sexual harassment occurs, and also includes any building owned or controlled by an officially recognized student org

Within the Scope?

- Co-curricular trip to Cuba – ?
- Fraternity party in recognized house – ?
- Holiday party for students at prof's house – ?
- Athletes traveling to game, but not with team – ?
- Holiday party at employee's house, invites co-workers and others – ?
- Off-campus apartment – ?

A quick discussion on “Sexual Harassment”

Sexual Harassment

- Sexual harassment means conduct on the basis of sex that satisfies one or more of the following:
 - o [Quid pro quo] An employee of the recipient conditioning the provision of an aid, benefit, or service of the recipient on an individual's participation in unwelcome sexual conduct;
 - o [Unwelcome conduct] Unwelcome conduct [on the basis of sex] determined by a reasonable person to be so severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that it effectively denies a person equal access to the recipient's education program or activity; or
 - o [Clergy crimes] Sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking

Sexual Harassment: Quid Pro Quo

- Only applies to employee respondents (can be any complainant)
- DOE interprets this broadly to encompass implied quid pro quo
- No intent or severe or pervasive requirements, but must be unwelcome
- “[A]buse of authority is the form of even a single instance...is inherently offensive and serious enough to jeopardize educational access.”

Sexual Harassment: Unwelcome Conduct

- The second prong: severe, persistent, and objectively offensive and deny equal access (which is not the same as under Title VII)
- Does not require bad intent
- Reasonable person standard – means a reasonable person in the shoes of the complainant (30159)

Severe?

- Takes into account the circumstances facing a particular complainant
- Examples: age, disability status, sex, and other characteristics
- Preamble discussion states that this removes the burden on a complainant to prove severity (30165)

Pervasive?

- Preamble indicates pervasive must be more than once if it does not fall into the above (30165-66)
- Preamble reminds us that quid pro quo and Clery/VAWA (domestic violence, dating violence, stalking) terms do not require pervasiveness

Objectively Offensive?

Reasonable person is very fact-specific (30167)

- Because so fact-specific, different people could reach different outcomes on similar conduct, but it would not be unreasonable to have these different outcomes
- Preamble notes that nothing in the Regulations prevents institutions from implicit bias training

Applies to Employees 1 of 5

- This was unsettled in most Circuits
- Enter Title VII
 - Commentary notes that "severe or pervasive" definition (Title VII) shouldn't apply because elementary, secondary, and postsecondary schools are unlike the adult workplace. (Pages 43-44)
 - Davis – 5th grade students
 - Instead - "severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive"

Applies to Employees 2 of 5

Near the beginning of the preamble, the Department noted:

"The Department does not wish to apply the same definition of actionable sexual harassment under Title VII to Title IX because such an application would equate workplaces with educational environments, whereas both the Supreme Court and Congress have noted the unique differences of educational environments from workplaces and the importance of respecting the unique nature and purpose of educational environments." (30037 of preamble).

Applies to Employees 3 of 5

But towards the end of the preamble, the Department clarified:

- "The Department appreciates support for its final regulations, which apply to employees." (30439)
- No "inherent conflict" between Title VII and Title IX (30439)
- Due Process protections found in § 106.45 (live hearing, advisors, cross-examination) apply to employees, not just students (30440)

Applies to Employees 4 of 5

The preamble clarified:

- Recipients that are subject to both Title VII and Title IX must comply with both (30440)
- "Deliberate Indifference" standard "most appropriate" for both Title VII and Title IX (30440)
- Because Title IX recipients are "in the business of education"
- "Marketplace of ideas" makes postsecondary institutions special

Applies to Employees 5 of 5

- Conflicts between Title VII and Title IX noted by Commenters:
 - o Formal complaint requirement
 - o Notice requirement
 - o Deliberate Indifference Standard (noted above)
 - o Definition of Sexual Harassment
 - o Live hearing (as opposed to notice and opportunity to respond)

Reviewing our Hypothetical:

Meet Tessa and Michael

Formal Complaint

Filed by Tessa on May 1, 2021 – the incident was April 3, 2021

"On April 3, 2021, my then-boyfriend, Michael, sexually assaulted me in my apartment. We were in my bedroom and I was trying to sleep after a long night of going out with Michael and some friends. Michael knows I'm against premarital sex, but that night I was very intoxicated and he had sex with me, even though I was too incapacitated to consent and can't remember everything."

Notice of Allegations

Charge #1

✓ Sexual Assault (Title IX):

Sexual Assault is engaging or attempting to engage in one of the following activities with another individual without consent or where the individual cannot consent because of age or temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity:

(1) Sexual intercourse (anal, oral, or vaginal), including penetration with a body part (e.g., penis, finger, hand, or tongue) or an object, however slight;

Dear Tessa,

My name is Rob Kent and the Title IX Coordinator has assigned me to investigate your case. I would like to meet with you to discuss what you remember about your encounter. Do you have time to meet with me on May 14th at 12:30 in the conference room? You may bring an advisor of choice with you, so if that date and time is not convenient for both of you, please let me know a few times that would work better.

Preparations for Interview?

There is nothing you need to do to prepare for our interview, but if you wish, you may want to begin gathering any evidence you may have, such as text messages or videos from the night in question. You may also want to think about potential witnesses that may be helpful for me to talk to. However, this isn't required to complete before we meet.

Accommodations/Interpreters

If you are disabled and need reasonable accommodations to participate, or if you speak another language and would like an interpreter to be present, please let the Title IX Coordinator know and we can make those arrangements.

Questions?

When we meet, we can talk through any questions you may have for me about the process, and we will discuss the prohibition against retaliation against anyone that participates in the process. I am also happy to address any questions beforehand if you'd like. In the meantime, if you need any supportive measures, please contact the Title IX Coordinator.

Echoing what we have told Tessa

Dear Michael,

My name is Rob Kent and the Title IX Coordinator has assigned me to investigate your case. My first step will be to meet with the other person to get more information about the formal complaint. I am in the process of setting that meeting up.

Once I have conducted that interview, I will reach back out to you to set up a time to interview you. You will be permitted to bring an advisor of choice to that interview.

Interviewing Skills

Preparation, Attention to Detail, and Being Human

Start with your Scope

What are you investigating?

- This should be documented in the Notice of Investigation
- The NOA should also include information about which policies are at issue
 - Double-check – is the correct policy cited?
- Break down the provisions to elements.

© 2014

Elementary, My Dear Watson

What are you investigating?

- For example:
 - ✓ Unwelcome conduct
 - ✓ On the basis of sex
 - ✓ That a reasonable person would determine to be:
 - ✓ So severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that
 - ✓ It effectively denies a person equal access to the recipient's education program or activity.

© 2014

Elements as Questions: Brainstorm

What types of questions do you ask for each of these?

- For example:
 - ✓ Unwelcome conduct
 - ✓ On the basis of sex
 - ✓ That a reasonable person would determine to be:
 - ✓ So severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive that
 - ✓ It effectively denies a person equal access to the recipient's education program or activity.

© 2014

Outline your thoughts

Get your plan on paper

- Prepare a bullet point list of things you want to explain at the outset
- Have your policy language at the ready
- Bring any evidence that you may want them to review and comment on
- Prepare an outline of questions
 - Don't forget to ask the complainant about impact if it's an element of your policy language!

By: [illegible]

Setting the Stage

Where are you interviewing?

- Private location – be cautious of windows, traffic in the area
- Distraction-free – Ringer off, noise outside
- Comfortable seating that provides equal positioning for interviewee, interviewer, and advisor (if any)
- Zoom → sometimes preferred by parties and witnesses. Concerns?

By: [illegible]

The Investigator Spiel

What do you say at the outset?

- Explain your role
- Explain how information will be shared in the process
- Explain the prohibition against retaliation
- Explain amnesty provision

By: [illegible]

Explain Your Role (1 of 2)

How do you explain it?

"As the investigator, my job is to gather evidence, interview witnesses, and prepare summaries of those interviews."

"Today, I'll be taking notes so that I can prepare a good summary of our conversation, but I want to make sure it's accurate, so I'll send you a copy for your review. You'll get the opportunity to suggest changes to make sure that it's complete and truthful, and that I've properly captured your side of the story."

© 2021

Explain Your Role (2 of 2)

How do you explain it?

"I'll also draft a report that summarizes what I've done to investigate, and the information I've collected. I do not make decisions about what happened or whether the policy was violated. A hearing officer has that job."

"The goal is for me to collect information to help the hearing officer understand what happened so that they can make a good decision in this case, which is why I'm very thankful that we're speaking today."

© 2021

Retaliation Prohibition

How do you explain it?

"Our policy prohibits retaliation, and there's a technical definition for that. But listen – if anyone makes you uncomfortable because you've spoken with me or participated in this process, please tell me right away. It may not rise to the level of retaliation under the policy, but there are still things we can do to address it. And if you're feeling uncomfortable, chances are good that other folks are, too, so you'll be doing them a favor by reporting it."

© 2021

Retaliation – More Oomph

How do you explain it?

"Please don't do one of these two things:

- 1) Re-read the policy and decide you don't need to tell me because you don't think it rises to the level of a policy violation; or
 - 2) Decide that you are strong enough to handle it and don't tell me.
- You might be strong, but maybe other witnesses are experiencing the same thing and they might not be strong enough. I'd rather help address things before they get too complicated, so please let me know."

06-18-14

Amnesty

How do you explain it? Check your policy, but here is a sample.

"Our policy gives you amnesty for personal drug and alcohol use, and it gives amnesty for other witnesses and the parties also. So, if any part of your story involves people using drugs or alcohol, please know that we're not going to bring student conduct charges in this situation. We want you to feel comfortable telling us the whole truth about the evening, and this is more important than underage drinking or drug use."

06-18-14

To Record Or Not?

Should you record interviews?

- Ohio is a "one party" state, which means as long as one party to the conversation is aware of the recording, you can record.
 - But failure to disclose this recording is likely not consistent with your institutional ethic of care.
- If you ask for consent and some witnesses refuse, what then?
- Your hearing officer will need either transcripts of the recordings, or they will need to review all of the videos. If you have a panel, they all will need to review this information.
- Recordings can be incredibly useful when a party or witness changes their story, and they can be helpful in lawsuits/OCR complaints.

06-18-14

Advisors

An Advisor can be anyone – including an attorney, a parent, a witness...

- Must have FERPA release if students are involved and the advisor is not an employee
- Title IX Coordinator can help set expectations for advisors up front
- Communicate with the party and copy the advisor: "Your advisor asked _____, so I wanted to share my response directly with you."
- If the advisor submits the party's written statement, make sure the party adopts that statement as their own.

© 2019

Start with Relationships

This helps to get context

- Student: What year are you? Where are you from originally? What is your major? Where do you live on campus?
- Employee: What is your title/position here? How long have you worked here?
- Who did you meet first, C or R? How? When?
- Relationships with other key people in the case (to help assess potential bias)

© 2019

Get a Timeline

This helps to get context

- "What do you remember regarding this situation?"
 - Give them a starting point or let them choose
 - "And then what happened? And what happened next?"
 - Let them deliver a monologue
- Think in terms of a timeline for your report
 - What section headings will help you tell the story chronologically?
 - Are you clear as to which parts of their monologue fit under which section?

© 2019

Ask Follow-Up Questions

Acknowledge that the individual may not remember every detail.

- Go back to each incident on your timeline and flesh out the details.
- If the witness was alleged to have done or said something in particular, check to see if that's accurate
- Cover every element that the individual could have information about
 - Remember: is impact an element in my case?

© 2021

Consent – Explicit?

These may be worded slightly differently depending on the party.

- "They gave consent" → "What did you say to them, and what did they say to you?"
- Did you have any conversation about sexual activity?
- Did the other person say anything to you that suggested they were consenting?
- Did the other person do anything that suggested they were consenting?
- Who initiated the sexual activity?

© 2021

Consent – Implicit?

These may be worded slightly differently depending on the party.

- Who took off your clothes? Who took off the other person's clothes?
- Was there a condom? Who provided it? Was there any conversation about using protection?
- Did you touch the other person? If so, where?
- Did they touch you? If so, where?

© 2021

Questions for Respondent

If they say there was consent, these can help get more details.

- What did the other person say to you to show consent?
- What actions did the other person do to show consent?
- Were they making any noises during the encounter?
- Did they help position their body during the encounter?
- Did they move your hands during the encounter?

4

Hypotheticals - Consent

Check your policy for your own definition, but here's what we'll use.

Words or actions that show a knowing and voluntary agreement to engage in mutually agreed-upon sexual activity.

Effective consent cannot be gained by taking advantage of the incapacitation of another, where the respondent knows or reasonably should have known of such incapacitation.

3
4

Incapacitation

First, explain why you need information on alcohol/drug use.

- Remember: Does your Policy permit amnesty?
- "I want to understand the role that drugs or alcohol may have played in this situation."
- "I want to understand whether you were capable of giving consent, or whether you were incapacitated due to drugs or alcohol."
- "I want to understand whether the other person was sober enough to understand and consent."
- "I am trying to get a sense of how intoxicated the person may have been when you saw them."

2
3
4

Incapacitation Questions (1 of 2)

You need a good physical description of relevant symptoms

- How much alcohol? Any drugs?
- Any medications that may have affected your ability to stay awake, or that might have interacted with alcohol?
- "They were drunk" → What did "drunk" look like?
 - Slurring? Clumsy? Uncoordinated?
 - Able to walk on their own? Need assistance to navigate or complete tasks?
 - Vomiting?
 - Able to carry on a conversation?
 - Oriented to who/what/where/when/why?

6

Incapacitation Questions (2 of 2)

You need a good physical description of relevant symptoms

- Was it a cup or a CUP?
- How many "fingers" of alcohol on the solo cup?
- What type of alcohol was consumed?
- What did they eat? When?

4
6

Respondent's Awareness

Did Respondent know or should have known of incapacitation?

- Was Respondent there?
- Did Respondent see when Complainant was [fill in symptom]?
- Did Respondent bring Complainant any alcohol/drugs?
- Did Respondent say anything about Complainant's level of intoxication?
- Was any planning done to take care of Complainant? Was Respondent part of that conversation or plan?

6

Incapacitation: Timeline

This will be critical

- Drinks
- Drugs
- Food
- Complainant's own recall
- Behavioral observations from other
- Electronic information – texts, videos, audio files
- Security footage
- Cards swipes

4
9

Hypotheticals - Incapacitation

Check your policy for your own definition – The definition is provided

- Occurs when the complainant lacks the ability to make informed, rational judgments regarding the participation in sexual activity.
- Defined is the inability to give consent because the complainant is mentally and/or physically helpless, asleep, unconscious, or unaware that sexual activity is occurring.
- A person may be considered incapacitated if the person cannot appreciate the who, what, where, when, why, or how of a sexual interaction.
- To be responsible where a complainant is incapacitated, policies typically require that the respondent knew or reasonably should have known about the incapacitation

9

Coercion: Left to Institution to Define

- Is this in your policy?
 - Does your TIX team, your preventive education team, and your local rape crisis center agree on a definition when working with your community?
- Often defined as unreasonable pressure for sexual activity
- Compare: “I will break up with you” versus “I will kill myself”

Hypotheticals - Coercion

Check your policy for your own definition – The definitions are provided

- In small groups of 3-4, please review the hypotheticals on pages 15-16.
- Focus on the elements of coercion. What is needed in each definition?

Sensory Questions

These may help with memories that are hard to access.

- What do you remember hearing, smelling, tasting, feeling?
- Where was the other person's hand, leg, body weight, etc.?

Focusing on sensations can help to recall memories that may not have been mentioned when asked to give an overview of what happened.

Paraphrase Questions

Make sure you understand

- "So, what I heard you saying is..."
- "Let me make sure I understand..."
- "It sounds like... do I have that right?"

Strategic Questions

Be thoughtful about when these are appropriate.

- "Would it surprise you to learn..."
- "Witness X said.... Do you agree?"
- "Here you said X, but today, you said Not X. Can you help me reconcile those things?"
- "Witness X said this and Witness Y said that. Can you help me understand why they might have different information?"
- "Let's look at this [evidence] together so I can get a better understanding..."

© 2014

Final Questions

Catch-alls at the end

- Is there anything you thought I would ask you about that we haven't discussed?
- Is there anything else you'd like to tell me?
- Is there anything else you think I should know?

© 2014

Drafting Interview Summaries

This isn't literature, folks. The key is clarity, not eloquence.

- Virtually every sentence should start with, "Witness stated..." or "Witness recalled..."
- Use direct quotes whenever possible and appropriate.
- Don't use adjectives or adverbs unless they are direct quotes from the witness.
- Avoid pronouns, as they can make a sentence ambiguous.

© 2014

Thoughts About Summaries

There is no perfect way to write a summary.

- Include procedural review at the outset (your "spiel")?
- Complete sentences vs. bullet points?
- Anonymize witness names?
- Use "Complainant" or "Respondent," or use the names as they are used by the witness?

7/2/22

Create Investigative Report

- "Fairly summarize relevant evidence" – usually include appendix with evidence copies to create a packet for hearing
- No determination of responsibility, no credibility findings, no findings of fact!
- Many ways to organize
- Be transparent – what did you try that didn't work? (Security footage gone, witness refused to participate, etc.)
- Provide to parties and advisors
- Allow 10 days to review prior to hearing

Hypotheticals - IPV

Check your policy for your own definition

- In small groups of 3-4, please review the IPV hypotheticals on pages 18-20.
- For Investigators: What questions would I ask to include more information in the report?
- For Advisors: What types of questions/comments do you have if you're working with the Complainant? Respondent?

Preparing the Case File

Parties review and respond

Redactions

Is it relevant?

- Sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior of complainant
- Privileged information where privilege has not been waived
- Medical records where no consent has been granted

J. B. 14

What do you include?

Pretty much everything

- Interview summaries
- Evidence gathered
- Do you prepare a draft report to go with the evidence for review?

J. B. 14

How do you share it?

Technology or not?

- Privacy is important.
- Technology – can limit ability to print, share, download, screenshot?
- Use watermarks for Complainant/Respondent file?
- In-person review?
- Non-disclosure agreements for technological access?
- How can advisors access it?

Draft Report

Can't finalize it until you give the opportunity to review and respond (10 days)

- "Fairly summarizes relevant evidence"
 - What you summarize is likely narrower than what you include in the file for review

Report Includes?

Can't finalize it until you give the opportunity to review and respond (10 days)

- Procedural History
- Summary of Allegations
- Relevant Policy Language
- Investigation Overview
 - Witnesses – Who you spoke with, who declined to participate, who never responded, who was requested wasn't relevant (and why)
 - Evidence – What you gathered, what you tried to gather but couldn't, what you were asked to gather but didn't (and why)

8

Synthesis of Information

How can you make heads or tails of what is in the full file?

- Do you want to detail what each witness said?
- Do you want to synthesize and summarize undisputed facts?
- Do you want to do a combination, depending on whether a particular issue is disputed or undisputed?
- Do you want to intersperse evidence, or make it a separate section?

© 2022

Report Attachment

All relevant evidence should be attached – and relevant is a broad term.

- Put it in a single PDF.
- Make a table of contents.
- Bonus: Make the table of contents clickable.
- Refer to relevant documents when you write your summary.
 - My ideal world: Every sentence has a citation to the attachments.

© 2022

Party Responses

What do you do with them?

- Do you need to conduct follow up interviews or request additional evidence?
- (Do you need to then circle back and do another round of evidence review/response?)
- Integrate relevant portions of the responses into your summaries.
- Attach the responses.

© 2022

Report Editing Exercises

See the packet of fun.

- Individually, please take 5-10 minutes and review the editing samples on pages 20-23. Identify issues and suggest corrections in writing.
- When you're done, please get together in small groups at your table and review the exercise.

What is Relevant?

Review of Relevance

(1 of 9)

- Regulations do not define "relevant," but tells us what is not relevant
- Per Regulations 34 C.F.R. 106. 45(b)(6)(i):
 - "Only relevant cross-examination and other questions may be asked of a party or witness."
 - "Before a complainant, respondent, or witness answers a cross-examination or other question, the decision-maker must first determine whether the question is relevant and explain any decision to exclude a question as not relevant."

Review of Relevance

(2 of 9)

Under the preponderance of the evidence/clear and convincing standard:

- Does this help me in deciding if there was more likely than not a violation/highly probable to be a violation?
- Does it make it more or less likely/does it make it highly probable?
- Why or why not?

If it doesn't move this dial: likely not relevant.

Review of Relevance

(3 of 9)

- Recipient must ensure that "all relevant questions and evidence are admitted and considered (though varying weight or credibility may of course be given to particular evidence by the decision-maker)." (Preamble, p. 30331)
- A recipient may not adopt rules excluding certain types of relevant evidence (Preamble, p. 30294)
- May not adopt Rules of Evidence.

Review of Relevance

(4 of 9)

What is NOT relevant:

Questions and evidence about the complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant, UNLESS

- 1) Such questions and evidence about the complainant's prior sexual behavior are offered to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the conduct alleged by the complainant, or
- 2) If the questions and evidence concern specific incidents of the complainant's prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and are offered to prove consent.

[34 C.F.R. 106.45(b)(6)(i)]

Review of Relevance

(5 of 9)

What is NOT relevant:

Information protected by a legal privilege

[34 C.F.R. 106.45(b)(1)(x)]

This will vary state-by-state, so check with your legal counsel.
Most common in this context are:

- a) Attorney-client privilege
- b) Doctor-patient/counselor-patient
- c) Fifth Amendment/right not to incriminate self (not really applicable in this venue, but sometimes raised and cannot force to answer questions)

Review of Relevance

(6 of 9)

What is NOT relevant:

A party's treatment records (absent voluntary written waiver by the party)

[34 C.F.R. 106.45(b)(5)(i)]

- PRACTICE TIP – LOOK for that written waiver in the materials provided to you

Review of Relevance

(7 of 9)

What is NOT relevant:

No improper inference from a party or witness declining to participate in cross-examination.

[34 C.F.R. 106.45(b)(6)(i)]

Review of Relevance

(8 of 9)

- Consideration of past statements of a party or witness that does not answer questions on cross-examination.
 - Preamble
 - Open Source and September 4, 2020 Q&A
 - VRLC and August 24, 2021 OCR guidance letter

Discuss with your legal counsel and Title IX Coordinator.

Review of Relevance

(9 of 9)

If you maintain the prohibition AND the statement IS the sexual harassment...

When it constitutes the sexual harassment, it is not the Respondent's "statement" as used in 34 C.F.R. 106.45(b)(6)(i), because the verbal conduct constitutes part or all of the allegations of sexual harassment itself.

<https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/blog/index.html> (May 22, 2020 blog post)

VRLC v. Cardona

(1 of 3)

Submission to Cross-Examination

- Aug. 2020 regs prohibited consideration of statements from parties/witnesses if not subjected to cross-examination (34 CFR 106.45(b)(6)(i))
- Sept. 4, 2020 Q&A clarified that failure to answer one question was a failure to submit to cross-examination

VRLC v. Cardona

(2 of 3)

"Arbitrary & Capricious"

- Mass. Federal decision vacated regulation requiring submission to cross-examination for consideration of statements (VRLC v. Cardona, June 28, 2021)
- August 24, 2021 letter providing guidance that, pursuant to VRLC decision, OCR will "immediately cease enforcement" of this specific provision in 34 CFR 106.45(b)(b)(i)

VRLC v. Cardona

(3 of 3)

Work with legal counsel to assess risk

- Pending cases
- Breach of contract concerns
- On appeal
 - o Texas has been permitted to appeal this decision, along with several individuals who have an interest in the outcome

Decorum During Hearings

- Relevant questions must not be abusive
- Enforcement of decorum must be applied evenhandedly
- "...where the substance of a question is relevant, but the manner in which an advisor attempts to ask the question is harassing, intimidating, or abusive (for example, the advisor yells, screams, or physically 'leans in' to the witness's personal space), the recipient may appropriately, evenhandedly enforce rules of decorum that require relevant questions to be asked in a respectful, non-abusive manner." (Preamble, 30331)
- The decision maker may remove any advisor, party, or witness who does not comply with expectations of decorum. (Preamble 30320)

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Okay, decision-maker, is this question relevant?

For practice, we will pose these in cross-examination format. As discussed before, the traditional cross-examination style is aimed at eliciting a short response, or a "yes" or "no," as opposed to open-ended question which could seek a narrative (longer) response.

For example, instead of, "How old are you?" the question would be, "You're 21 years old, aren't you?"

Hypotheticals Disclaimer

Disclaimer: The following hypotheticals are not based on any actual cases we have handled or of which we are aware. Any similarities to actual cases are coincidental.

Practice Hypothetical #1

Question from Respondent's Advisor to Complainant:

Since you can't remember your conversations with Michael that night, it is possible that you asked him to make love to you, right?

Practice Hypothetical #2

Question from Complainant's Advisor to Respondent:

Since you acknowledged that you "pushed too hard before," it makes sense that you pushed too hard on April 3rd, doesn't it?*

Referring to March 4, 2021 text message*

Practice Hypothetical #3

Question from Respondent's Advisor to Complainant:

You never went to the hospital for a SANE exam, did you?

Practice Hypothetical #4

Question from Complainant's Advisor to Respondent:

Prior girlfriends have told you that you pushed too hard sexually, haven't they?

Practice Hypothetical #5

Question from Respondent's Advisor to Complainant:

Tessa, I understand that now you want to wait until you are married to have sex, but you're aren't a virgin, are you?

Practice Hypothetical #6

Question from Complainant's Advisor to Respondent:

Michael, you're not a virgin, are you?

Practice Hypothetical #7

Question from Complainant's Advisor to Complainant:*

Tessa, you brought your counseling records today, correct?

Questioning of a party by their own advisor is not required by the regulations, and may not be part of your process.*

Practice Hypothetical #8

Question from Respondent's Advisor to Complainant:

Tessa, did you tell your advisor (who is not an attorney) during break that you thought today was not going well for you?

Practice Hypothetical #9

Question from Complainant's Advisor to Respondent:

Michael, did you tell your attorney during break that you thought today was not going well for you?

Review of Tasker/Murphy
Investigation Report

Things to Note

- Reported that Respondent engaged in Title IX Sexual Assault on April 3, 2021
- Incapacitation
 - What information does the decision-maker need?
 - What questions are the advisors likely to ask?

Opportunities to Practice

Questioning of Tessa

- o DM questioning of Tessa
- o Relevance determinations for cross-exam of Tessa by Michael's advisor

Questioning of Michael

- o DM questioning of Michael
- o Relevance determination for cross-exam of Michael by Tessa's advisor

LIVE CROSS-EXAMINATION: Theory and Practice

Cross Tools: What are the goals of cross-examination?

- Obtain factual admissions helpful to your party's case.
- Corroborate the testimony of your party's witnesses.
- Minimize the other party's case by impeachment of witness being questioned.
- Minimize the other party's case by impeachment of other witnesses through the witnesses being questioned.
- Reduce confusion and seek truth.

Cross Tools: Impeachment 1 of 5

- What bias might a witness have?
- Do you understand the relationship between the witness and the parties?
- Experts: getting paid for testimony
 - You charge fees based on an hourly rate?
 - You were paid to produce a written report?
 - Based on this report, you're testifying today?
 - You're charging money for each hour you're here?

Cross Tools: Impeachment 2 of 5

- Perception and Recall
 - What is the witness's perception of the facts?
 - o Has time impacted recall or ability to remember clearly?
 - o How many times has the witness talked to a party about this case?
 - o Was there anything that impacts the person's physical or mental ability to perceive or recall facts accurately?
 - Does the witness form a conclusion without knowing certain information?

Cross Tools: Impeachment 3 of 5

- Example: Intoxication level information from witness.
 - You did not see the consumption, or keep track of how long the party was consuming alcohol?
 - You did not measure the alcohol poured by ____ at the party?
 - Your statements are based on information provided by others? the other party?
 - Party's statements were made after they had been drinking alcohol (consuming other drugs, etc)?

Remember: Determine whether the person is not speaking from personal knowledge.

Cross Tools: Impeachment 4 of 5

- Inconsistency in statements
 - If a fact was very important, why is the hearing the first time it has come up?
 - What possible reasons might the witness have for changing their testimony?
 - Did a witness receive coaching from the party or others between making one statement and another?
 - Has the witness's perspective or motive changed between statements?
 - Does changing this fact help the other party's case?

Cross Tools: Impeachment 5 of 5

- Lack of Corroborating Evidence
 - Example: Card swipes
 - o You said that you entered the building by yourself at 1:00 a.m.
 - o Security footage doesn't show you entering.
 - o Your card swipe record doesn't show you entering.
 - o Can you help me understand why there is a discrepancy?

Advisors: Thought Process

Advocating for your party in the Hearing 1 of 7

Preparation

- Review the entire investigation hearing report
- Review all evidence (some may have non-relevant evidence also—know if you disagree with any relevancy determinations made by the investigator)
- Meet with your party to review what your party thinks and wants
- Discuss strategy

Advocating for your party in the Hearing 2 of 7

Preparation

- Realize that your party may want to take a more aggressive approach – If you are not comfortable with the approach, discuss it with the party and check to see if you can advise your party
- Discuss the expectations of decorum vs. the expectations of questioning the other party and witness

Preparation

- Determine who your witnesses are and whether your party thinks they will show up to the hearing
- Be careful of the line between asking a party to participate and explain the importance of their statements vs. coercing a party to participate who has the right not to participate

Advocating for your party in the Hearing 4 of 7

Preparation

- Consider a script
 - List each allegation and policy definition/elements for the policy violation (e.g., sexual assault—know which definition and what must be met to show sexual assault under the policy)
 - Standard of review: this can be helpful to have written out so that you can support relevancy determinations for your questions to show why relevant

Advocating for your party in the Hearing 5 of 7

The Hearing

- Ask one question at a time and wait for the Decision-Maker to determine if it is relevant
- If the Decision-Maker has a question about why the question is relevant, be prepared to answer that question (see preparation)
- Be respectful of the process so that you can effectively ask your party's questions – if you think you or someone else is becoming too heated, ask for a break to regroup

The Hearing

- Be aware that the other advisor may not be as prepared as you are and the decision-maker has a duty to ask questions the advisor does not—this doesn't mean the decision-maker is biased or trying to help the other side – you may not like it, but it's a requirement for the decision-maker

Advocating for your party in the Hearing 7 of 7

Post-hearing

- The decision-maker will issue a decision to both parties at the same time.
- Under the regulations, the advisor is not required to have any further role in the process (this may be especially true if the advisor is appointed by the institution)
- Other advisors (attorney or parent), may choose to work with the party to appeal on the bases listed in the decision

How Do You Choose Questions?

What Don't You Know?

Decision-makers: If you need to know it to make a determination, you have the obligation to ask the question.

Advisors: If you don't know the answer to the question before you ask it, it may harm your party. Weigh the benefits of asking carefully before proceeding.

What Do You Know?

Decision-makers: It can be helpful to ask questions when you think you already know the answer, to ensure that you are able to sequence events correctly and that you understand nuances in the testimony.

Advisors: If the testimony is going to help tell your party's story, it can be helpful to bring it to the forefront of the decision-maker's mind.

Disputed Facts?

Decision-makers: Question on disputed facts so that you can weigh credibility, make a determination, and explain your rationale.

Advisors: Highlight areas for the decision-maker where the other party's story doesn't make sense, by asking questions to discredit the witness, or to provide corroborating evidence for your party's story.

Make Your Plans

- Decision-makers:
 - What themes do you wish to draw out?
 - What disputed points do you need information on?
 - Who will cover which topics?
 - Which questions will be asked?
- Advisors:
 - Use this discussion to help frame your questions. What key points do you think need to be addressed with each witness to highlight your party's story?
 - What information is most critical of your party's story, and what can help highlight the weaknesses in that information as compared to the strengths in your information?

Pick a Goal

- Consider choosing a goal for yourself to try to reach through questioning:
- Advisor: "By questioning Sarah, I will try to show that Respondent was more aware of Complainant's intoxication level than the report suggests."
- Decision-maker: "In questioning Complainant, I will try to better understand what effects she felt from her head injury versus intoxication."
- Etc.

Break & Preparation for Practice Session

Decision-Maker Hearing Practice and Debrief

Objectively Evaluating Evidence and Resolving Credibility Disputes

Objectively Evaluating Relevant Evidence

- As addressed in the preamble and discussed earlier, the decision-maker should evaluate:
- “consistency, accuracy, memory, and credibility” (30315)
- “implausibility, inconsistency, unreliability, ulterior motives, and lack of credibility” (030330)
- Standard of proof and using it to guide decision

Standard of Proof

- Standard of Evidence: Preponderance of the Evidence or Clear & Convincing
- Must use same standard for formal Title IX complaints against both students and employees (including faculty) for all policies and procedures with adjudication for sexual harassment complaints (e.g., union grievances procedures, faculty conduct)
- Must begin with a presumption of no violation by Respondent.

Making credibility decisions

The preamble discussion includes the following additional information on credibility:

- “Studies demonstrate that inconsistency is correlated with deception” (30321)
- Credibility decisions consider “plausibility and consistency” (30322)

Resolving Disputes (1 of 4)

Considerations:

- Statements by any witnesses to the alleged incident
- Evidence about the relative credibility of the complainant/respondent
 - o The level of detail and consistency of each person's account should be compared in an attempt to determine who is telling the truth
 - o Is corroborative evidence lacking where it should logically exist?

Resolving Disputes (2 of 4)

- Evidence of the complainant's reaction or behavior after the alleged harassment
 - o Were there witnesses who saw that the complainant was upset?
 - o Changes in behaviors? Work-related? School? Concerns from friends and family? Avoiding certain places?
 - May not manifest until later

Resolving Disputes (3 of 4)

- Evidence about whether the complainant filed the complaint or took other action to protest the conduct soon after the alleged incident occurred
 - o But: failure to immediately complain may merely reflect a fear of retaliation, a fear that the complainant may not be believed, etc. rather than that the alleged harassment did not occur

Resolving Disputes (4 of 4)

- Other contemporaneous evidence:
 - o Did the complainant write about the conduct and reaction to it soon after it occurred (e.g. in a diary, email, blog, social media post)?
 - o Did the student tell others (friends, parents) about the conduct and their reaction soon after it occurred?

#1 Keep An Open Mind

- Keep an open mind until all statements have been tested at the live hearing
- Don't come to any judgment, opinion, conclusion or belief about any aspect of this matter until you've reviewed or heard all of the evidence AND consider only the evidence that can remain (statements in the record might have to be removed from consideration if not tested in live-hearing)

#2 Sound, Reasoned Decision

- You must render a sound, reasoned decision on every charge
- You must determine the facts in this case based on the information presented
- You must determine what evidence to believe, the importance of the evidence, and the conclusions to draw from that evidence

#3 Consider All/Only Evidence

- You must make a decision based solely on the relevant evidence obtained in this matter and only statements in the record that have been tested in cross-examination
- You may consider nothing but this evidence

#4 Be Reasonable and Impartial

- You must be impartial when considering evidence and weighing the credibility of parties and witnesses
- You should not be swayed by prejudice, sympathy, or a personal view that you may have of the claim or any party
- Identify any actual or perceived conflict of interest

#5 Weight of Evidence (1 of 2)

- The quality of evidence is not determined by the volume of evidence or the number of witnesses or exhibits.
- It is the weight of the evidence, or its strength in tending to prove the issue at stake that is important.
- You must evaluate the evidence as a whole based on your own judgment.

#5 Weight of Evidence (2 of 2)

- Decision-makers who are trained to perform that role means that the same well-trained decision-maker will determine the weight or credibility to be given to each piece of evidence, and how to assign weight (30331)

#6 Evaluate Witness Credibility (1 of 3)

- You must give the testimony and information of each party or witness the degree of importance you reasonably believe it is entitled to receive.
- Identify all conflicts and attempt to resolve those conflicts and determine where the truth (standard or review/proof) lies.

#6 Evaluate Witness Credibility (2 of 3)

- Consider the reasonableness or unreasonableness, or probability or improbability, of the testimony.
- Does the witness have any motive?
- Is there any bias?

#6 Evaluate Witness Credibility (3 of 3)

- Credibility is determined fact by fact, not witness by witness
 - o The most earnest and honest witness may share information that turns out not to be true

#7 Draw Reasonable Inferences

- Inferences are sometimes called “circumstantial evidence.”
- It is the evidence that you infer from direct evidence that you reviewed during the course of reviewing the evidence.
- Inferences only as warranted and reasonable and not due to decision to opt out of cross-examination or questioning.

#8 Standard of Evidence(1 of 2)

Use your standard of evidence as defined by your policy when evaluating whether someone is responsible for each policy violation and ALWAYS start with presumption of no violation.

- Preponderance of the evidence: a fact is more likely than not to be true (30373 fn. 1409)
- Clear and convincing: a fact is highly probable to be true (30373 fn. 1409)

#8 Standard of Evidence (2 of 2)

- Look to all the evidence in total, and make judgments about the weight and credibility, and then determine whether or not the burden has been met.
- Any time you make a decision, use your standard of evidence

#9 Don't Consider Impact

- Don't consider the potential impact of your decision on either party when determining if the charges have been proven.
- Focus only on the charge or charges brought in the case and whether the evidence presented to you is sufficient to persuade you that the respondent is responsible for the charges.
- Do not consider the impact of your decision.

The Written Decision

Written Determination in 106.45(b)(7)(ii)

(1 of 9)

Written determination must include:

- Identification of the allegations potentially constituting sexual harassment;
- A description of the procedural steps taken from the receipt of the formal complaint through the determination, including any notifications to the parties, interviews with parties and witnesses, site visits, methods used to gather other evidence; and hearings held;

Written Determination in 106.45(b)(7)(ii)

(2 of 9)

Include key elements of any potential policy violation so parties have a complete understanding of the process and information considered by the recipient to reach its decision (30391) – should “match up” with decision (30391)

Written Determination in 106.45(b)(7)(ii)

(3 of 9)

Purpose of key elements of procedural steps
“so the parties have a thorough understanding of the investigative process and information considered by the recipient in reaching conclusions.” (30389)

Written Determination in 106.45(b)(7)(ii)

(4 of 9)

- A statement of, and rationale for, the results as to each allegation, including determination regarding responsibility, any disciplinary sanctions the recipient imposes on the respondent, and whether remedies designed to restore or preserve equal access to the recipient's education program or activity will be provided by the recipient to the complainant; and

Written Determination in 106.45(b)(7)(ii)

(5 of 9)

- Statement of rationale: requiring recipients to describe, in writing, conclusions (and reasons for those conclusions) will help prevent confusion about how and why a recipient reaches determinations regarding responsibility (30389)
- The requirement of “Transparent descriptions of the steps taken in an investigation and explanations of the reasons why objective evaluation of the evidence supports findings of facts and conclusions of facts” helps prevent injection of bias (30389)

Written Determination in 106.45(b)(7)(ii)

(6 of 9)

- Institution's procedures and permissible bases for complainant and respondent to appeal
- Provided to both parties in writing contemporaneously (106.45(b)(7)(ii))

Written Determination in 106.45(b)(7)(ii)

(7 of 9)

- Receiving decision simultaneously will ensure both parties have relevant information about the resolution of the allegations

Written Determination in 106.45(b)(7)(ii)

(8 of 9)

Reference to code of conduct not prohibited:

"Recipients retain discretion to also refer to in the written determination to any provision of the recipient's own code of conduct that prohibits conduct meeting the [Title IX definition] of sexual harassment; however" the final regulations apply to recipient's response to Title IX portion only. (30389)

Written Determination in 106.45(b)(7)(ii)

(9 of 9)

The preamble discussion notes that it does not “expressly require the written determination to address evaluation of contradictory facts, exculpatory evidence, all evidence presented at a hearing, or how credibility assessments were reached, because the decision-maker is obligated to objectively evaluate all relevant evidence, including inculpatory and exculpatory evidence (and to avoid credibility inferences based on a person’s status as a complainant, respondent, or witness.”

Note: Consider including these anyway for a more thorough determination.

Sexual Harassment Hypotheticals: Chuck and Mary Sue

Chuck and Mary Sue are both custodians. They are assigned to work the same night shift in the same academic building, five nights per week. They are both supervised by the same person, Jason, who works in the administrative building. All of the custodians across campus communicate with each other, and with Jason, by using university-issued walkie-talkies that they carry with them at all times during their shifts. Each custodian must clock in and out at the administrative building before reporting to their assigned building.

Mary Sue believes that Chuck may be sexually harassing her. She relays the following facts. At what point, if any, do you believe that sexual harassment has occurred, and why?

1. Chuck asks Mary Sue out on a date after a shift. Mary Sue says no.
2. Chuck brings flowers to work and asks Mary Sue out on a date again. Mary Sue says no again.
3. Chuck asks Mary Sue out on a date over the radio. Mary Sue says no again.
4. Jason informally warns both Chuck and Mary Sue not to discuss personal matters on the radio.
5. Chuck corners Mary Sue in the break room at the beginning of shift to ask her why she won't date him, and he won't let her leave until she says yes. (She gets away.) Jason writes them both up for starting their shifts late that day.

Changing it Up

Chuck and Mary Sue are both students. Mary Sue believes that Chuck may be sexually harassing her. She relays the following facts. At what point, if any, do you believe that sexual harassment has occurred, and why?

1. Chuck asks Mary Sue out on a date. Mary Sue says no.
2. Chuck brings flowers to class and asks Mary Sue out on a date again. Mary Sue says no again.
3. Chuck asks Mary Sue out on a date on social media. Mary Sue says no again.
4. Chuck and Mary Sue's professor sees that they are on social media during class time and asks them both to stop and pay attention.
5. Chuck corners Mary Sue in an academic building lounge to ask her why she won't date him, and he won't let her leave until she says yes. (She gets away.) Their professor is not happy that they are both late to class.

Sexual Harassment Hypotheticals: Baldwin Hall

Hypothetical #1

Fran Yeager is a First-year student and a resident of Baldwin Hall, a co-ed, all First-year residence hall. Baldwin Hall is co-ed by room, meaning that residents are paired by the same gender identity as roommates on a hall with two single-gender bathrooms. Fran has an extremely positive body image and is comfortable walking to and from the bathroom wearing nothing but a very small towel.

Some of the male-identified residents are uncomfortable with Fran's conduct and come to Sarah Overton, the Second-year (but not sophomoric) resident advisor, to request that Sarah intervene. The residents state that Fran's conduct has created a hostile environment under the Title IX Policy and they want Fran to be removed from the hall.

Questions:

- Does Fran's conduct meet the definition of sexual harassment? Why or why not?
- What questions would you ask to determine if Fran's conduct meets the definition of sexual harassment under your policy?

Fran is walking to the bathroom and Bryan, one of the residents, yells out, "Fran! You sexy beast! Work it!" Fran proceeds to turn toward the resident and slowly and seductively removes the towel. Fran smiles and walks to the bathroom wearing only the fuzzy slippers. Some of the other residents see Fran and, again, go to Sarah insisting that Fran be removed. They share with her that some of the residents are now using the bathrooms on other floors of the building to avoid Fran.

Questions:

- Does Fran's conduct meet the definition of sexual harassment now? Why or why not?
- Does Bryan's conduct meet the definition? If not, what other facts would you need?

Bryan and Fran go to a party. Both have been drinking heavily and are visibly intoxicated, but are coherent and laughing loudly in the hallway. The laughter wakes up Sarah and she opens her door to see Bryan and Fran in the hallway. She sees Bryan's hand on Fran's buttocks and overhears him saying, "Just kiss me you sexy beast!" Sarah observes Fran push Bryan away. Fran walks unsteadily past Sarah to exit the hall. Sarah observes that Fran appears to be "upset" and the next day confirms that Fran was angry with Bryan for "making a move."

Questions:

- Does Bryan's conduct constitute sexual harassment? Why or why not?
- How should Sarah and the college respond to this situation?

Hypothetical #2

Second year resident advisor, Sarah Overton, has even more difficulties on her floor. One of her residents, Max, is a transgender male. He is currently taking hormone replacement therapy and has started to grow a beard. Max has been using the male restroom on the floor since the beginning of the school year. Shortly before fall break (middle of October) a resident comes to Sarah and expresses his concerns that a woman should not be using the bathroom. In talking to Sarah, the resident expresses that his religious beliefs do not permit him to accept Max's "lifestyle choices." He adds quickly that "Max is a nice person and if she wishes to act like a man, that's okay," but he's uncomfortable being in the bathroom with Max.

Questions:

- Is your policy implicated by the fact pattern that is currently written? For example, does your policy protect gender identity or gender expression? What should Sarah do?

Sarah tells the resident that she is going to check in with her area coordinator (professional staff member responsible for her building) and wishes her resident a good fall break. Sarah returns early from fall break and notices that someone has written the words "fucking freak" in dry erase marker on Max's door. Sarah quickly erases the comment. She is not sure if anyone has seen the graffiti. She makes an incident report.

Questions:

- You are now in the role of the area coordinator. Does this constitute a policy violation under your policies? If it does, which policies are implicated?

[You are still in the role of the area coordinator] Max comes down to your office and is visibly upset. He tells you that as he was walking out of the bathroom this morning, a group of residents stopped him in the hallway and told him that he needed to "shave off that ridiculous beard and act like the woman that you are." Max explained that he pushed his way past the three residents and when he did so, one of them, he's not sure which one, shoved him from behind calling him a "freak."

Max has come to you seeking a room change to another residence hall. He says "I don't want to make any trouble, I just don't feel safe living in this building anymore." Fighting back tears, Max tells you that he doesn't want anything to be reported. You tell Max that you are deeply concerned about the behaviors and want to respect his requests.

Questions:

- What potential policy violations are implicated now?

- If Max does not want to move forward with a formal investigation, do your policies permit that to happen under these circumstances? What are your tests or considerations in determining whether or not the case would move forward with a formal investigation?
- Assuming that your policy covers harassment on the basis of gender identity, are these facts sufficient to create a hostile environment? If not, why not? If so, why?

Sexual Harassment: Professor Player

Statement of the Reporting Person, Becca Newcomer

I am a first-year student enrolled in Professor Player's Long and Boring Equations class this semester. I am writing to complain about Professor Player's treatment of women in the class.

Everyone knows that Professor Player treats women badly, but I needed the class for my major and so I thought that it wouldn't be so bad, but it is. He is awful. One day in class, he declared that in an effort to promote diversity, he was going to have a "Famous Female Mathematician Day" and give us a slide show of all the Famous Female Mathematicians. He joked it would be a short slide show. Then he put up a picture of Hedy Lamarr and said that she was a female mathematician, but couldn't you tell she was famous for something more than her equations? Then he kind of leered at the class. Some people laughed, but I didn't.

I think he grades women unfairly, too. I am a good student, but I have a B- in his class. He doesn't offer any feedback on my papers, but I sit between two guys and they both get A's and lots of feedback. Some of the other women in the class say they have heard for a long time that he grades women lower than men.

Last week, I finally got the guts to go ask him about it, so I took my last three papers and I went to his office hours. There were lots of people there, so I waited in the little waiting area outside his office with some other people from my class. When it was my turn, I went in and showed him the three papers and asked him for feedback. He didn't have any, and it was like he hadn't even read them. I asked him point blank if he was grading me lower because I was a woman, and he said that if anything, he was grading me higher than I deserved. Then he put his hand on my shoulder and told me that maybe if I bothered coming in for his office hours more often, I would understand more about the class. He said he needed to meet with another group of students, but that I could accompany him to dinner later if I wanted so we could discuss it more. I didn't like the way he looked at me. I grabbed my papers and ran out of the room.

I was so upset, I didn't do the homework that night. The next day in class, he called on me at the beginning of the lecture and kept calling on me for the entire class period. He completely humiliated me. It was obvious I hadn't done the work yet, and I told him that, but he kept asking me questions and didn't even give anyone else a chance to raise their hands.

I am still shaking with anger about how I have been treated. I don't want to go to his class anymore, and I don't want anyone else to have to put up with him either.

Statement of the Responding Person, Professor Player

These allegations are completely ridiculous. I have never treated any of my students with anything other than my utmost respect, regardless of whether they are male or female. Ms. Newcomer's allegations are patently false. Simply put, she is not used to receiving anything less than an A, but in my class, her substandard work does not deserve to be rewarded with such high marks.

We have had three papers and a multiple choice exam thus far in the semester. Ms. Newcomer earned a D+, B, and C+ on the papers, and a B- on the exam. The first paper often earns students low scores because it is early in the semester and they have little experience in scientific writing at a college level. I offered extra office hours to give feedback on early drafts, and those students that took advantage of this help received much higher grades.

Ms. Newcomer did not attend those or any other office hours, until last week when she showed up waving term papers at me and screaming that I hated women. I told her that I did not hate women, that she was welcome to come to my office hours at any time for assistance, and that I would be happy to schedule time with her outside those office hours if she needed more help or had scheduling conflicts. She started crying. Professor Bystander, who has the other office in my suite, was standing in my doorway to see what all the noise was about, and Ms. Newcomer pushed past him to leave.

I did once put a picture of Hedy Lamarr in a PowerPoint. I did not say that it was "Famous Female Mathematician Day." We talked about Ms. Lamarr's underappreciated contributions to mathematics with regard to her contributions to war-time technology, some of which is the foundation to other technologies that we have been studying. There is no denying Ms. Lamarr is beautiful, and I believe I expressed the opinion that her beauty detracted from the proper appreciation of her mathematical genius.

Upon Further Investigation...

Neither Professor Bystander nor the students outside the office door were able to provide any information on the content of the conversation. The students stated that Ms. Newcomer entered the office in a calm state. The students and Professor Bystander agreed that when she left, she was crying and highly agitated.

Professor Bystander stated that after Ms. Newcomer pushed past him, he asked Professor Player what had happened. Professor Player responded, "She doesn't like her grades and I don't like her attitude, so everyone is unhappy at the moment." Professor Player does not recall having any conversation with Professor Bystander about the incident.

Is the Playwright Discriminating?

Professor Gene O'Neill is a well-regarded scholar and playwright at your institution. He is a respected teacher and for the last 25 years has received nothing but exceptional feedback from his students. He is well connected to the Broadway community and runs an intensive two-week summer class in New York City. Students vie to get into this intensive program because of the opportunities it provides to interact with playwrights and performers.

Professor O'Neill is scrupulous about gender balance in his class. He works with the Registrar to ensure that all genders are well represented in his classes.

In recent years, Professor O'Neill has decided to not meet alone with female students without his office door being open. His colleagues have noted that he is uncomfortable in social settings with female students. They have commented that he appears to make sure that he is never alone with female students in social settings (e.g. departmental functions, dinners during the New York trip, etc.).

An assistant professor and informal mentee of Professor O'Neill asked him if there was a pedagogical or other reason for his behavior. Professor O'Neill responded that he was trying to avoid any situation that could be deemed "improper." He recognized that this meant that female students had fewer one-on-one interactions with him, but he shrugged off any negative implications of it stating, "My student evaluations are excellent and I'm just trying to avoid any Title IX issues."

Is there Sexual/Gender Harassment? Why or Why Not?

- If students raised concerns about Prof. O'Neill's conduct to the Dean of the College and reported that they noticed these behaviors and also reported having fewer opportunities to interact with Prof. O'Neill outside of the classroom, would this change your analysis?

Understanding Consent: Mini-Hypotheticals

Did Charlie consent to the oral sex?

Hypo #2: Remy and Sage are kissing. Remy asks Sage if it is OK to have sex. Sage says it is OK, “but only if you use a condom.” Remy puts on a condom and penetrates Sage. Halfway through the sexual encounter, Remy removes the condom without telling Sage and continues to penetrate Sage.

Did Sage consent to the sexual intercourse?

Hypo #3: Alex and Chris are kissing. Alex asks Chris if it is OK to have sex. Chris agrees. They have sex. Chris doesn’t realize that Alex has hidden a friend in the closet to watch.

Did Sage consent to the sexual intercourse?

Hypo #4: Quinn is giving oral sex to Riley after Riley gives verbal consent. After a minute, Riley lays hands on Quinn’s shoulders, pushing Quinn back somewhat but not totally away. This keeps Quinn from being able to push as hard, but still allows Quinn to continue. Quinn continues for a few more moments, then stops and the two go on to do something else.

Hypo #5: Angel threatens to post pornographic pictures of Jordan on Facebook if Jordan does not have sex with Angel. Jordan has sex with Angel.

Did Jordan consent to sex?

Hypo #6: Kai and Dylan have been in a relationship for the past semester. Dylan tells Kai that if Kai loves Dylan, Kai would have sex with Dylan. Kai reports feeling pressure to have sex or lose the relationship. Kai has sex with Dylan, although Kai is reluctant to do so.

Did Kai consent to sex?

Hypo #7: Hunter and Jayden have been in a relationship for nearly two years. Jayden has been experiencing serious mental health issues and has recently attempted suicide after Hunter stated that their relationship was over. After Jayden attempted suicide, they reconciled. Hunter reported that Jayden threatened to commit suicide if Hunter did not engage in sexual contact with Jayden, so Hunter did so.

Did Hunter consent to sex?

Hypo #8: Cameron and Nova met at a party. They have both been drinking and they return to Nova's apartment. When they arrived, they went to Nova's small bedroom in the apartment. They hook up briefly and Cameron decides to leave the room. Nova blocks the door to the room and tells Cameron that Cameron needs to kiss Nova before Cameron can leave. Cameron kisses Nova, then heads to the bathroom.

Did Cameron consent to the kiss?

Keys to Consent Analysis

When a case relates to consent, look for behaviors that demonstrate a willingness to participate in sexual activity, such as:

- Words or phrases that suggest consent
- Taking off own clothes
- Providing protection from STIs
- Assisting with penetration
- Guiding the other person's touch

Lack of such behaviors may constitute a lack of consent. The presence of behaviors that demonstrate an unwillingness to participate in sexual activity may likewise constitute a lack of consent, for example:

- Saying "no"
- Pushing the person away
- Physically moving oneself away
- Putting clothes back on
- Lying about having protection in the hopes of deterring sexual activity

Keys to Incapacity Analysis

When a case relates to incapacity, an investigator's goal is to create a timeline of:

- Drug and alcohol use by the reporting party
- Use of medications by the reporting party that could interact with drug and alcohol use or affect consciousness
- Physical and cognitive behaviors demonstrated by the reporting party to suggest intoxication level – observed by whom?
- Text messages, photographs, and videos of the reporting party that could help to demonstrate intoxication levels
- Card swipes and security footage of the reporting party
- Any other information with a timestamp

Consent and Incapacitation Mini-Hypotheticals

Work together in small groups to determine whether the conduct was non-consensual in each of these situations.

#1: Casey and Jessie go to Casey's apartment. Both are sober. Casey asks Jessie if they can have sex. Jessie says yes. They proceed to have sex. Both Casey and Jessie actively participate in the sex.

Was the conduct consensual? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Why or why not? _____

#2: Dakota and Harper don't know each other. Harper is sleeping in the student lounge when Dakota arrives. Dakota rubs Harper's genitals, which awakens Harper.

Was the conduct consensual? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Why or why not? _____

#3: Jamie and Rory are roommates. Jamie spends the evening drinking alone to the point of incapacitation. Rory returns to their apartment to find Jamie in Rory's bed. Rory gets into bed with Jamie. Jamie wakes up, kisses Rory, and asks Rory for sex. Rory says yes. Rory and Jamie have sex.

Was the conduct consensual on Jamie's part? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Why or why not? _____

#4: Angel and Avery meet at a party. While they are sitting together, Avery has two "Long Island Iced Teas," each of which contain five shots of alcohol. Avery asks Angel to assist with the walk home, and Angel ends up carrying Avery partway. When they get to Avery's room, Avery kisses Angel passionately, then proceeds to give Angel oral sex.

Was the conduct consensual on Avery's part? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Was the conduct consensual on Angel's part? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Why or why not? _____

#5: Quinn takes sleeping medication and drinks a wine glass full of vodka, intending to sleep for twelve hours or more. Parker, Quinn's friend, stops by to see Quinn before bedtime and convinces Quinn to go to a party. Quinn and Parker walk down two flights of stairs, out the door, down a hill, and across campus to the party. While at the party, they dance and talk. Parker kisses Quinn. Quinn then kisses Parker. They walk back together. The next morning, Quinn remembers nothing about being with Parker.

Was the conduct consensual on Quinn's part? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Why or why not? _____

#6: Charlie and Kendall are at a party dancing. Charlie comes up behind Kendall and begins grinding against Kendall's back, with Charlie's genitals rubbing against Kendall's hip. Kendall is sober and steps away from Charlie.

Was the conduct consensual? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Why or why not? _____

#7: Ryan drinks three beers, three shots of vodka, and a whiskey and coke. Ryan is able to text a friend, Taylor, in a coherent manner for about twenty minutes. Taylor asks Ryan to stop in before bed, and Ryan obliges. Taylor's door is open when Ryan arrives, and Ryan leans against Taylor's doorframe as they talk. Taylor asks Ryan for sex, and Ryan initially says no. After talking for a few more minutes, Taylor asks again and Ryan comes into the room and closes the door. Taylor kisses Ryan, but Ryan pulls away. Then Ryan kisses Taylor, and the two have sex.

Was the conduct consensual on Ryan's part? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Was the conduct consensual on Taylor's part? ☐ Yes ☐ No

Why or why not? _____

Incapacitation Scenario

Our scenario facts have been established as indicated below. For purposes of this scenario, you may assume that each drink constitutes one standard serving of alcohol.

Kevin and Caden are roommates. Kevin is gay. Caden is questioning. One night, they go to a party together.

10:00 p.m. - They arrive at the party and split up at the door. Kevin goes to the basement. Caden goes to the third floor. Kevin has two beers with a group of friends. Caden has a glass of wine and a cup of vodka and punch with a separate group of friends.

11:00 p.m. – Kevin climbs the stairs to the third floor. Kevin asks Caden if he’s ready to leave. Caden takes a shot of vodka and announces that he is “good to go.” Kevin leads the way down the stairs. Caden stumbles on the last step but catches himself on the handrail. He is laughing. On the way back to their room, Caden texts with a friend:

James: You going out tonight?
Caden: with kevin coming home
James: Stop over to my place to say hi.

Caden tells Kevin that he wants to stop on the floor below where they live to see James. They take the elevator to the fourth floor where James lives.

11:15 p.m. -- James is in his room with his girlfriend, Amanda, and his friend Pat. They have purchased three different types of whiskey and are making their own flights (one shot of each type). James doesn’t drink. Kevin tries one sip of whiskey but doesn’t like it. Caden finishes a flight while they talk.

12:30 a.m. – Amanda, Pat, and Caden finish off Kevin’s flight by each taking one shot.

1:15 a.m. – Caden starts an argument with Pat about whether the “new Browns” are the real deal or whether next year will be the same old Browns. Caden can’t choose a position, then begins to get depressed.

1:30 a.m. – Kevin announces that it’s time to take Caden back to their room. Caden leads the way. In the hallway, he puts his right palm against the wall as he walks. James texts Caden: “Drink water and take aspirin, dude.” James explains that he sent this because he feared Caden would be very sick the next morning. Caden responds, “no rswyf”

1:45 a.m. – Kevin undresses Caden so that he can go to bed. The two begin kissing. Kevin says that Caden initiated the kiss; Caden does not believe he did so. The two have sex. Caden has limited memory of the encounter.

What facts suggest Caden was incapacitated? What facts suggest Caden was capable of consenting? What additional context would you like to know?

Coercion Hypotheticals

Hypothetical No. 1: Complainant has reported that the Respondent has naked pictures of the Complainant and threatened to post them publicly if Complainant refuses to engage in sexual intercourse with Complainant.

Is this coercion? ☐ Yes ☐ No ☐ Need more information?

Hypothetical No. 2: Complainant and the Respondent have been in a relationship for the past semester. Respondent tells Complainant that if Complainant loves Respondent, Complaint would have sex with Respondent. Complainant reports feeling pressure to have sex or lose the relationship. Complainant decided to have sex although Complaint is reluctant to do so.

Is this coercion? ☐ Yes ☐ No ☐ Need more information?

Hypothetical No. 3: Complaint and the Respondent have been in a relationship for nearly two years. Respondent has been experiencing serious mental health issues and has recently attempted suicide after Complainant stated that their relationship was over. After Respondent attempted suicide, they reconciled. Complaint reported that Respondent threatened to commit suicide if Complainant did not engage in sexual contact with Respondent.

Is this coercion? ☐ Yes ☐ No ☐ Need more information?

Hypothetical No. 4: Complaint and the Respondent met at a party. They have both been drinking and they return to Respondent's apartment. When they arrived they went to Respondent's small bedroom in the apartment. They hook up briefly and Complainant decides to leave the room. Respondent blocks the door to the room and tells Complainant that Complainant needs to kiss Respondent before Complainant can leave.

Is this coercion? ☐ Yes ☐ No ☐ Need more information?

Definition #1:

Coercion is compelling another individual to participate in sexual activity in a manner that makes the participation involuntary. Consent for sexual activity must be clear, knowing, and voluntary. The reasonable person standard is used to establish whether participation was voluntary. Coercion contains a wide range of behaviors which override the voluntary nature of participation. Such acts include, but are not limited to, threatening to disclose personal sexual information, or threatening to harm oneself if the other party does not engage in the sexual activity. Coercing an individual into engaging in sexual activity violates this policy in the same way as physically forcing someone into engaging in sexual activity. Consent cannot be obtained by coercion.

Definition #2:

An individual cannot consent who has been coerced, including being compelled by force, threat of force, or deception; who is unaware that the act is being committed; or who is coerced by a supervisory or disciplinary authority.

Force: violence, compulsion, or constraint; physically exerted by any means upon or against a person.

Coercion: the application of pressure by the respondent that unreasonably interferes with the complainant's ability to exercise free will. Factors to be considered include, but are not limited to, the intensity and duration of the conduct.

Stalking Hypotheticals

When does the behavior cross into stalking under your policy (if it does at all)? Each scenario is cumulative. You may assume that substantial emotional distress occurs where you believe a reasonable person would feel substantial emotional distress.

Scenario #1 – Student on Student

1. On the first day of class, Jamie sits next to Alex. Jamie smiles at Alex, but says nothing.
2. On the second day of class, Jamie sits next to Alex.
3. After that day's class, Alex sees Jamie in the student union grabbing lunch. Jamie sits at the table immediately behind Alex and eats lunch alone.
4. Every day at lunch from then on, Jamie sits at the table behind Alex in the Union, grabbing lunch. They never speak.
5. Jamie "friends" Alex on Facebook. Alex accepts.
6. Jamie "likes" a few old pictures that Alex has on Facebook.
7. Jamie begins "liking" every picture that Alex posts on Facebook.
8. Jamie begins commenting on every picture that Alex posts on Facebook.
9. Jamie tags Alex on Facebook and says, "See you in class."

Scenario #2 – Student on Faculty

1. Professor hands back an assignment. Student got a D.
2. Student emails Professor to argue about their grade.
3. Student comes to office hours to argue about their grade.
4. Student stays after class to argue about their grade.
5. Professor tells student that the grade stands, that the conversation is over, and that the Professor needs to leave.
6. Student follows Professor out of the classroom, still arguing about their grade.
7. Another professor steps into the hallway and stands between Student and Professor.
8. The other professor takes Student into an office, listens for a few moments, and tells the Student to stop harassing the Professor and let it go. (Professor makes a quick getaway.)
9. Student shows up at office hours the next day to argue about their grade.

Scenario #3 – Student on Student

1. Jen breaks up with Ben after two years. Jen would describe the relationship as “abusive.”
2. The next day, Ben shows up outside Jen’s class to talk. Jen declines.
3. As Jen walks across campus, Ben follows her.
4. Ben begins crying hysterically and pleading with her as she walks away.
5. Ben gets on his knees and follows her, begging her to come back to him.
6. When Jen gets to her next class, Ben sits outside the door and waits for her.
7. After class is over, Jen tells Ben to go away, and Ben leaves.
8. In Jen’s third class, Ben keeps walking back and forth past the classroom windows wearing a thick wool sweater that Jen hand-knitted for him. It’s eighty degrees outside.
9. Jen texts Ben to go away. Ben texts her back that he intends to “follow [Jen] to the ends of the earth” until she takes him back.

Intimate Partner Violence Scenarios

Would the following behaviors constitute IPV under your policy? Why or why not?

A is the reporting party and B is the responding party. They are dating.

- B slaps A.
- B threatens to hurt A’s dog if A breaks up with B.
- B threatens to tell A’s parents that A is gay.
- B threatens suicide if A moves out.
- B constantly puts A down, calls A names, and tells A that A is “horrible.”
- B berates A for texting friends and staying late at the library, saying that A “must be cheating.”
- B tells A that A is “immoral” and “ungodly.”

Remember to challenge your assumptions when working IPV cases:

- A person may stay in abusive situations for much longer than an objective outsider might assume is appropriate.
- A person may return to their abuser many times before they leave for good.
- The motives a person may have for staying with their abuser may not “make sense” to someone outside the relationship.
- One person who experiences abuse may respond differently than another person who experiences similar abuse.
- On the other hand, counterintuitive response could also be a sign that the person is not accurately relating the facts. Don’t assume that a counterintuitive response automatically indicates that the person is or is not a victim of IPV. Either way, as an investigator, you have more digging to do – but don’t stop digging because you have made an up-front assumption one way or the other.

IPV Scenario – Credibility Assessment Exercise

Credibility is determined based on the “totality of the circumstances.” Factors to consider in determining credibility include:

- Statements by witnesses to the incident.
- The detail and consistency of each person’s account.
- Corroborating evidence, such as medical records, key card records, surveillance video.
- The lack of corroborating evidence, if such evidence should logically exist.
- Information about how the reporting person acted following the incident – immediately and over time.
- Information about whether the reporting person reported the incident or told others soon after the incident occurred.
- Other contemporaneous evidence –social media posts, text messages, etc. – that tend to support a person’s version of the incident.
- Credible reports of similar incidents by the responding person (Be cautious here!).
- Whether the reporting person has been shown to make false reports (Again, exercise caution here).

Charlie and Jesse

Charlie and Jesse dated during fall semester of this year. The alleged incident reportedly occurred on December 13th. Both parties agree that they later broke up on Christmas Day.

Charlie’s story

It was late at night, and it was very cold. Jesse and I had gone on a long walk through town to talk about our relationship, but I had an exam the next morning so we got back in the car to drive back to campus. I was in the passenger seat of Jesse’s car, and Jesse was driving. When we got to my residence hall, Jesse parked and we continued talking for a while. I told Jesse that I wasn’t happy and thought it might be time to break up. Jesse got mad and started yelling that I was “self-absorbed,” and that when Jesse expressed concerns about the relationship, I would ignore or blame Jesse for everything. I told Jesse that I wasn’t going to be yelled at and that I thought it was time to go inside. Jesse grabbed my left arm forcefully and told me that I “can’t get away that easily.” I tried to wrench my arm free. Then Jesse slapped me across the face. I screamed, and Jesse let go. I ran out of the door up to my room, locked the door, and stayed in for the rest of the night. I didn’t talk to anyone that night and ate my way through a box of chocolates I had in my room. The next morning before my exam, Jesse snapped me, “I love you. I am so sorry. Let’s talk.” I had a deep bruise on my left forearm that didn’t go away for two weeks. I wish I had taken pictures.

Jesse’s story

Yeah, I remember that night, but that’s not how it happened. Charlie and I drove into town for dinner. Charlie had a glass of wine; I didn’t drink because I was driving. After dinner, we walked down to a little park and talked. It was freezing. Charlie spent a lot of time telling me how I never listened and was always late. When I tried to respond, Charlie started playing with a phone. I got mad because Charlie was accusing me of not listening, but now Charlie wasn't listening. I told Charlie it was time to head back to the car, and we didn't talk most of the way back. Once we got to the residence hall, I wasn't in the mood to talk anymore so I pulled up outside the door and said "Good night." Charlie said, "Figures you don't want to talk. You don't want to hear anything bad about yourself. Why do I keep dating you? I think it's time for me to leave." Then I felt guilty for brushing Charlie off, so I said, "Oh, don't be like that. Let's talk after your exam," and leaned over to kiss Charlie good night. Charlie leaned away from me so I missed the kiss, then got out of the car. Later I snapped Charlie, "I love you. I'm sorry. Let's talk tomorrow." The next day, I was waiting for Charlie outside the exam room and we talked it through. There's no way I bruised Charlie's arm. If I touched Charlie's arm, it was just to get my balance when I leaned over for the kiss.

Whitney's story

Charlie lives next door to me, and we have bio together. Charlie came home around midnight the night before our exam in a huff. Charlie had borrowed my winter coat for a date and stopped by to drop it off. I asked Charlie what was wrong. Charlie told me about an argument with Jesse and said that the relationship was getting to be too much. I told Charlie to get some sleep for the exam tomorrow, and Charlie left, talking about wanting to gorge on chocolate and go to bed. The next day, Jesse was waiting for Charlie outside the exam room. I never saw any bruises on Charlie's arm. I left for home a few days later.

Other information

- Security footage shows the car pulling up to the residence hall at 11:44 p.m. and Charlie exiting approximately one minute later. The camera can't see the inside of the car.
- Card swipes show Charlie entered the residence hall at 11:45 p.m., then again at 12:08 a.m. through a different door; security footage could not be obtained for the later swipe.

Questions for discussion:

- Do you believe that Jesse grabbed Charlie's arm? Why or why not?
- Do you believe that Jesse bruised Charlie's arm? Why or why not?
- Did Jesse violate the policy regarding IPV? Why or why not?

Editing Samples

Brief Samples for Editing:

1. Respondent engaged in sexual intercourse with Complainant from behind.
2. Complainant couldn't explain why she was sitting on the couch by herself.
3. Complainant stated that Respondent jacked himself off, then gave him a blow job.
4. Respondent visibly winced when Complainant said "no."
5. John stated that Alice told him to "knock it off."
6. On a scale of 1 to 10, the witness described the Respondent as being a "level 4 kind of drunk."
7. There was no evidence to support Complainant's assertion that the activity was without consent.
8. During the mediation, Respondent admitted to the misconduct and promised not to do it again.
9. Professor Clark indicated that he had never known Respondent to commit sexual misconduct at 2:00 in the morning in the back of a bar before.
10. Respondent stated that Complainant was diagnosed with bipolar disorder and that the complaint was "all in his head."
11. When Respondent asked if Complainant wanted oral sex and Complainant said, "That's OK," that was indication of the Complainant's consent.

Sample 1:

The investigators interviewed the following witnesses:

- Rod Stewart;
- Paul McCartney;
- John Lennon;
- Ringo Starr;
- John Denver;
- Kermit the Frog; and
- Fozzie Bear.

The respondents' witnesses (Gonzo, Ms. Piggy, Ralph, and the Chicken) were not interviewed.

CommentsSample 2:

When reviewing Alice's credibilities when compared to John's, we find that Alice is more credible than John. Therefore, we must adopt Alice's factual allegations as true and discount John's for the sake of analyzing whether or not a policy violation was committed.

Comments

Sample 3:

Complainant went to a party that night. When he arrived, he had a cup of beer, quickly followed by a glass of wine. Later in the evening, he had another glass of beer and a shot of whiskey. Before he left the party, Complainant had another shot of whiskey. By the time that Complainant arrived back at his residence hall, he was incapacitated and could not hold a conversation.

CommentsSample 4:

Walt described the complainant as being “wasted.” When asked to describe what “wasted” means, Walt stated that the complainant was drunk, and that he had seen her consume three or four drinks.

Comments

Sample 5:

Respondent explained that he is significantly taller than Complainant. When they laid down together and were kissing, his penis was above her belly button. There was no way that he could have penetrated her while kissing her, as she alleged.

CommentsSample 6:

Findings of Fact: Complainant states that Respondent was engaging in non-consensual sexual activity, including intercourse, in the early morning hours of September 1st.

Comments

Sample 7:

The panel concludes that there was insufficient evidence to demonstrate that Complainant had not consented to the sexual activity. Therefore, no policy violation occurred with respect to the non-consensual sexual intercourse charge against Respondent. However, Respondent admits that he voluntarily had sex with Complainant in the back office of the library while they were on duty, which is prohibited. Therefore, Respondent is terminated from his employment effective immediately.

Decision Matrix

Question 1: Did the complainant and respondent engage in sexual activity? ____ Yes ____ No
(If no, respondent is not responsible for violation. Proceed no further.)

What facts support that sexual activity occurred?

What facts support that sexual activity did not occur?

What facts (if any) are disputed that are relevant, and how do you resolve each?

Question 2: Was the complainant capable of giving consent to the activity? ____ Yes ____ No
(If no, respondent is responsible for violation.)

Consider: age of complainant, cognitive capability of complainant, sleep, incapacitation, medical condition, force, coercion

What facts support the complainant's capability to consent?

What facts support the complainant's incapability to consent?

What facts (if any) are disputed that are relevant, and how do you resolve each?

If you found that the complainant was incapacitated, did the respondent know or should the respondent have known that the complainant was incapacitated such that the respondent is responsible for a policy violation?

Question 3: Did the complainant give consent to each sexual activity? ____ Yes ____ No
(If no, respondent is responsible.)

What facts support this determination?

What facts (if any) do not support this determination?

What facts (if any) are disputed that are relevant, and how do you resolve each?

Was consent, if given, withdrawn at any time? If so, when?

Is the Respondent responsible for Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse?

___ Yes ___ No

For the sake of argument, how would you argue that the opposite is true?

CORONA COLLEGE FINAL INVESTIGATION REPORT¹

Complainant: Tessa Tasker

Respondent: Michael Murphy

Date: August 1, 2021

On May 1, 2021, the College's Title IX Coordinator received a formal complaint from Complainant Tessa Tasker, a rising junior, alleging misconduct by Respondent Michael Murphy, also a rising junior. Specifically, the report stated:

On April 3, 2021, my then-boyfriend, Michael, sexually assaulted me in my apartment. We were in my bedroom and I was trying to sleep after a long night of going out with Michael and some friends. Michael knows I'm against premarital sex, but that night I was very intoxicated and he had sex with me, even though I was too incapacitated to consent and can't remember everything.²

Complainant lived in an on-campus apartment at the time of the reported incident.

Both parties were provided with a Notice of Investigation of Allegations on May 3, 2021, which included a mutual no-contact order.³ The case was referred to an investigator to investigate whether Respondent committed Sexual Harassment (Sexual Assault) under the Title IX Policy.

Jurisdiction

The College must investigate a formal complaint unless it is determined that:

- The conduct alleged in the Formal Complaint would not constitute Sexual Harassment as defined in the Nondiscrimination Policy, even if proved;
- The conduct did not occur in the College's education program or activity and/or the College does not have control of the Respondent;
- The conduct did not occur against a person in the United States; and/or

² If this were a real Final Investigative Report, the formal complaint would be attached.

³ Again, if this were a real Report, these notices would be attached.

- At the time of the filing of a Formal Complaint, the Complainant is not participating or attempting to participate in the education program or activity of the College.

In this case, the Formal Complaint alleges conduct that, if true, may constitute Sexual Harassment under the Nondiscrimination Policy. Further, the conduct was reported to have occurred on campus, in the United States, between two students. Finally, Complainant was (and still is) a student of the College at the time of filing the Formal Complaint. Therefore, the College must investigate this case, and proceed with a Title IX Hearing for adjudication.

Relevant Excerpts from the Nondiscrimination Policy

Section IV.C. Sexual Harassment

1. Sexual Assault

Sexual Assault is engaging or attempting to engage in one of the following activities with another individual without consent or where the individual cannot consent because of age or temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity:

- (1) Sexual intercourse (anal, oral, or vaginal), including penetration with a body part (e.g., penis, finger, hand, or tongue) or an object, however slight;

Section IV.C. Sexual Harassment

Consent: Consent is granted when a person freely, actively and knowingly agrees by word or action at the time to participate in a particular sexual act with a particular person. Consent exists when mutually understandable words and/or actions demonstrate a willingness to participate in mutually agreed-upon activity at every stage of that sexual activity. Reasonable reciprocation can be implied. Consent can be withdrawn once given, as long as the withdrawal is clearly communicated through words or actions. If consent is withdrawn, that sexual activity should cease within a reasonable time.

Since individuals may experience the same interaction in different ways, it is the responsibility of each party to determine that the other has consented before engaging in the activity.

If consent is not clearly provided prior to engaging in the activity, consent may be ratified by word or action at some point during the interaction or thereafter, but clear communication from the outset is strongly encouraged.

Consent to some sexual contact (such as kissing or fondling) cannot be presumed to be consent for other sexual activity (such as intercourse). A current or previous intimate relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent.

Proof of consent or non-consent is not a burden placed on either party involved in an incident. Instead, the burden remains on the College to determine whether this Policy has been violated. The existence of consent is based on the totality of the circumstances evaluated from the perspective of a reasonable person in the same or similar circumstances, including the context in which the alleged incident occurred and any similar, previous patterns that may be evidenced.

Incapacitation: A person cannot consent if they are unable to understand what is happening or they are disoriented, helpless, asleep, or unconscious, for any reason, including by alcohol or other drugs. As stated above, a Respondent violates this Policy if they engage in sexual activity with someone who is incapable of giving consent.

It is a defense to a sexual assault policy violation that the Respondent neither knew nor should have known the Complainant to be physically or mentally incapacitated. “Should have known” is an objective, reasonable person standard which assumes that a reasonable person is both sober and exercising sound judgment.

Incapacitation occurs when someone cannot make rational, reasonable decisions because they lack the capacity to give knowing and informed consent (e.g., to understand the “who, what, when, where, why, or how” of their sexual interaction).

Incapacitation is determined through consideration of all relevant indicators of an individual’s state and is not synonymous with intoxication, impairment, blackout, and/or being drunk.

This policy also covers a person whose incapacity results from a temporary or permanent physical or mental health condition, involuntary physical restraint, and/or the consumption of incapacitating drugs.

History of Investigation

During the course of the investigation, the investigators interviewed all of the following students via Zoom between May 3, 2021 and May 10, 2021:

- Complainant;
- Respondent;
- Sarah Shade (Complainant's roommate);
- Joe Jenkins (host of party #1);
- Angela Atkins (sister of Caleb); and
- Caleb Atkins (host of party #2).

No other witnesses were identified by the parties. When the investigators asked the Complainant and Respondent whether they remembered interacting with anyone else that night, they both indicated that while there were other people at the parties, they did not know any of them well and did not have significant interactions with them.

All interviewees were advised of the role of the investigators as neutral and unbiased gatherers of information, the anti-retaliation policy, and an overview of the investigation and adjudication process. Interviewees were also advised that information shared with the investigators is not confidential and would be included in this report, shared with the parties, and possibly become the basis for questioning at a later hearing.

A summary of each interview was shared with the appropriate interviewee. Interviewees were offered the opportunity to review and revise summaries to ensure accuracy. All interviewees approved the summaries attached to this report.⁴

As part of the investigation, the investigators gathered additional information. All parties and witnesses were asked for all communications, photographs, and videos from the evening in question. They received the following:

- Text messages between Complainant and Sarah dated April 4, 2021;
- Text messages between Complainant and Respondent dated:

The parties were offered a chance to review a draft of this report and all relevant evidence and provide a response in writing within ten days. Neither party submitted a response to the draft report and relevant evidence. The investigator then issued a final report in this matter and the parties were again provided ten days to submit a written response. Neither party submitted a response to the final report.

Investigation

Background

The parties agree that they met in August 2019 during orientation and began dating in October 2019. Complainant is a double major in Religious Studies and Philosophy. Respondent is a Philosophy major in the Prelaw program. The parties dated for the remainder of their first year. When the campus locked down in March 2020, both parties continued with a long-distance relationship, with Complainant returning home to Celina, Ohio and Respondent returning to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

In Fall 2020, Complainant remained at home for online learning, but Respondent came back to campus. Complainant returned to campus for in-person learning in January 2021.

The parties agree that broke up briefly over Spring Break in March 2021, but quickly reconciled. They do not agree about the reasons for the break-up. Complainant stated that she broke up with Respondent because he kept pushing her for more sexual activity within their relationship. Respondent stated that Complainant broke up with him because she was stressed about mid-terms and thought that Respondent was coming over too much when she needed to study. Sarah stated that it was her understanding that they broke up because Respondent was “pushy” and “needy” and Complainant felt like she “needed space.”

⁵ No, they aren’t.

To give context to their relationship and the ongoing discussions about sex, Complainant provided the investigators with a series of text message excerpts from February and March, 2021, as follows:

February 4, 2021

Respondent, 12:20 p.m.: V-Day is coming up. Valentine's or victory.
Complainant, 12:26 p.m.: Are we going out to eat?
Respondent, 12:26 p.m.: I want to make you dinner.
Complainant, 12:27 p.m.: Is that a romantic gesture or a sex joke?
Respondent, 12:27 p.m.: Which do you prefer?
Complainant, 12:28 p.m.: Let's go out to eat.

February 16, 2021

Complainant, 4:22 p.m.: In class, whacha doin
Respondent, 4:24 p.m.: Thinking about you.
Respondent, 4:25 p.m.: What I want to do to you.
Complainant, 4:26 p.m.: We aren't married yet.

March 4, 2021

Complainant, 2:01 p.m.: Last night you pushed too hard.
Respondent, 2:02 p.m.: I know and I'm sorry. I just really want you.
Complainant, 2:03 p.m.: I know but I want you for always when that happens.
Respondent, 2:03 p.m.: I know. I think we're ready for it.
Complainant, 2:04 p.m.: I don't think so yet.
Complainant, 2:04 p.m.: But I still love you and want to marry you.

March 8, 2021

Respondent, 8:36 a.m.: Good morning, sweetheart. Can I bring you breakfast?
Complainant, 8:37 a.m.: Only if you plan on staying all day. I miss you.
Respondent, 8:38 a.m.: I thought you were getting tired of me.
Complainant, 8:38 a.m.: I am never tired of Nutella.
Respondent, 8:38 a.m.: I can do more than crepes, you know.
Complainant, 8:39 a.m.: Not today, but come over anyway.

Complainant stated that the reference to Nutella was from an incident a few days earlier when Respondent made Nutella crepes for breakfast.

March 21, 2021

Respondent, 2:42 a.m.: I can't sleep. Talk again, please?
Complainant, 2:42 a.m.: I can't sleep either, but I also can't let this go on.

Complainant, 2:42 a.m.: You ask for too much from me. I need space.
Respondent, 2:43 a.m.: I will give you space, but please don't leave me alone.
Complainant, 2:43 a.m.: I think that's what space means. Good night, Michael.

Complainant's Beliefs Regarding Premarital Sex

Complainant stated that she was raised "very religiously" and believes strongly that "premarital sex is again God's will." Complainant stated that she told Michael this before they began dating, and that Michael was "okay with it," but that "he was fine having sex if that's what [Complainant] wanted."

Respondent stated that Complainant told him that she "did not want to have sex with a person until she was sure that she was going to get married to them." Respondent stated that he went to visit Complainant when she was at home in October 2020, and that they began speaking about marriage at that time. After that, Respondent stated that Complainant would joke more about sex, would initiate more sexual activity with him (although it never progressed to sexual intercourse), and that she would often talk about when she felt that "having sex would be right."

April 3, 2021

Both parties agree that they went to two parties together before returning to Complainant's on-campus apartment. Both parties agree that Respondent stayed the night in Complainant's bedroom afterwards. Below is the information provided by the parties and witnesses organized chronologically. Where all information is agreed upon, the information is not cited. Where a specific witness provides the information, it is noted.

Pizza with Sarah

Complainant and Sarah agree that they had dinner together at the apartment, prior to Respondent's arrival and before they went out that evening. Complainant recalled that they ordered the pizza at around 5:00 p.m. Sarah thought that the pizza arrived around 6:00 p.m. While they waited for the pizza, they gave themselves manicures and drank alcohol. Complainant stated that she had two beers during this time period, while Sarah believed they were drinking white wine. Complainant and Sarah agree that they discussed Complainant and Respondent having recently gotten back together.

After the pizza arrived, Complainant and Sarah both stated that Sarah poured each of them a full glass of white wine, and they went to their individual bathrooms and bedrooms to get ready for an evening out. Complainant states that she drank half of the glass of white wine. Sarah did not see how much Complainant drank.

Michael Arrives and They All Leave for Party #1

Complainant, Respondent, and Sarah agree that Respondent arrived by foot at the apartment sometime between 7:30 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Respondent lived a block away in his own on-campus apartment. Respondent stated that when he arrived, Complainant was ready to go out, but that Sarah was still in her bedroom getting ready. Complainant and Respondent agree that they sat in the living room waiting for Sarah. Complainant stated that she took a few more sips of wine during this time, but that she still did not finish the glass. Respondent does not recall Complainant drinking during this time.

Complainant, Respondent, and Sarah all estimate that they left to go to Joe Jenkins's house between 8:00 and 8:15 p.m. Complainant noted that both parties were happening earlier than they might have otherwise because it was Easter the next day. Sarah stated that it was her intention to be home by midnight due to having to get up early the next morning for Mass.

Party #1 – Joe Jenkins's House

Complainant, Respondent, and Sarah agree that it took about fifteen minutes to walk three blocks to Joe's off-campus apartment. Complainant stated that they went to find Joe upon arrival, and that he was in the kitchen pouring shots of Fireball Whiskey. Complainant stated that she had a shot while they were saying hello. Sarah remembers taking a shot of Fireball Whiskey with Complainant in the kitchen. Michael does not remember anyone taking shots in the kitchen, but instead said that they just went to see Joe to say hi and ask whether they could play pool.

The three played pool for a brief period together upon arrival at the party, as Joe keeps a pool table instead of living room furniture. Sarah submitted a fifteen second video of Complainant trying a "trick" pool shot, missing it, and laughing. The video is timestamped 8:26 p.m. Michael is also in the background, chalking his pool cue. There is an empty shot glass on the corner of the pool table in the video.

Sarah recalled that after playing pool for "a while," Respondent went to find Joe, and Complainant and Sarah went out to the backyard, where others were dancing to music. Sarah stated that she and Complainant took another shot of Fireball Whiskey as they passed through the kitchen on the way outside. Complainant did not remember taking a second shot that evening.

Respondent stated that he found Joe in the kitchen getting food ready for the party, and that he helped make homemade pizza rolls for the guests with Joe. While the pizza rolls were cooking, he and Joe sat in the dining room and talked with various guests. Respondent does not recall seeing any Fireball Whiskey in the kitchen while he was there with Joe.

At 9:15 p.m., Complainant texted with Angela Atkins to see if Angela wanted to come to Joe's house. The text messages read:

Complainant, 9:15: We are dancing at Joe's. Wanna come?

Angela, 9:16: Can't. I'm wrapping Caleb's present.

Angela, 9:16: You're going to his party, right?

Complainant, 9:17: Next.

Angela, 9:18: What time are you leaving? I will meet you there.

Complainant, 9:18: Getting our stuff now. I'll let you know when we leave.

Complainant stated that she had been wearing a jacket and brought a purse with her, and that she had left it near the pool table but it took her a few minutes to find it. Sarah stated that she had brought a shawl and a clutch and found them in the kitchen. Sarah and Respondent agree that Respondent was in the kitchen when Sarah entered by herself, and that Sarah told Respondent that she and Complainant were going to Caleb's house. Respondent told Sarah that he was still helping Joe, but that he would come to the party soon.

Party #2 – Caleb Atkins's House

At 9:30 p.m., Complainant sent Angela a text that said, "On our way." Complainant believes that they had just left Joe's house when she sent the message. Caleb's off-campus house is three blocks away from Joe's house in the opposite direction from where Complainant and Sarah lived, making Caleb's house approximately six blocks from their apartment. Sarah stated that on the way to the party, she recalled that Complainant tripped on a sidewalk, but she noted that the sidewalk is old and uneven in places, and that it was dark. Sarah stated that she thought Complainant was "buzzed," in that she was talking and laughing louder than usual, but that she was not slurring her words. Sarah stated that she had "no concerns" about Complainant's level of intoxication as they walked to Caleb's house.

Complainant and Sarah stated that when they arrived at the party, everyone was out in the backyard. They immediately each took a solo cup of punch at the gate and said "Happy Birthday" to Caleb, who was turning twenty-one years old that day. Caleb recalled that he had just finished pouring the punch, which was made from vodka, water, green Hawaiian Punch mix, and pineapple juice. He estimated that it was approximately 25% alcohol. Caleb said the party had a beach theme, so he had chosen a tropical punch for the drink. Caleb noted that he had also purchased cans of beer for the party, which were in a metal tub on the back patio on ice. Aside from the glass of punch that Complainant and Sarah each took when they arrived, Caleb could not remember either of them taking another glass.

Complainant and Sarah stated that they went to the back patio to dance, and that Angela arrived shortly after they did. The three danced together. Complainant and Angela both recall Complainant having another glass of punch when Angela arrived.

Sarah did not recall Complainant getting another glass of punch while on the dance floor.

Complainant and Respondent recall that Respondent arrived at about 10:00 or shortly thereafter. Complainant recalled that she was still dancing with Sarah and Angela when he arrived. Complainant stated that Respondent stopped her to ask if she was drinking anything, and when she showed him her empty cup, he brought her another cup of punch. Sarah recalled Respondent bringing Complainant a cup of punch. Angela remembered Respondent holding two cups when he got them from the dance floor, but she could not remember who he gave them to, if anyone.

When Respondent came back onto the dance floor with the cup or cups, Complainant, Respondent, Angela, and Sarah went to sit around a campfire at the back of the property. Caleb was there stoking the fire. They all sat on benches, with Complainant and Sarah sitting on a bench next to each other. Respondent sat on a separate bench next to Complainant. Angela sat on a separate bench next to Sarah. Angela provided a photograph she took of Caleb with Complainant and Sarah, and each woman is kissing one of his cheeks.

Angela stated that when she pulled back her phone and saw the picture, she thought Complainant looked “flushed,” and she realized that Complainant was “pretty drunk.” Angela said that Complainant was clumsy and nearly toppled the bench when she sat back down from the photo. Respondent stated that Angela caught her foot on the bench leg and that he grabbed it at the last second to keep it from tipping. Complainant does not recall either the photograph, but she does recall nearly falling when she sat down.

Complainant, Respondent, Angela, Sarah, and Caleb all recall sitting around the campfire for an unknown length of time. Complainant reported that during this time, she drank the glass of punch that Respondent brought her on the dance floor. Complainant recalled that she was “really feeling” the alcohol at this point, and that everything felt “hazy.” Complainant stated that she resolved to keep sitting for a while until she could “shake it off,” but after a bit, they started playing Taylor Swift’s song, “Shake It Off,” and that was Complainant’s “jam.” Complainant stated that she got back up to dance at that point with Sarah and Angela. Sarah and Angela also remembered getting back up to dance, but do not recall the impetus for it, other than Angela saying that “Caleb was being boring and just wanted to talk.”

Complainant stated that while she was on the dance floor, she fell due to her alcohol consumption. Complainant stated that she told Sarah that Complainant “shouldn’t have any more punch.” Sarah recalled Complainant making this statement. However, Sarah thought the statement was more of a joke, because Complainant had slipped on a patio stone that was loose. Angela stated that she did not see Complainant fall because she was turned around, but that when she turned back to Complainant, she saw Complainant “sprawled on the dance floor” holding her ankle. All three women remember that Angela and Sarah helped Complainant to the back steps, where Complainant sat in the porch light so they could look at her ankle.

Sarah stated that Complainant's ankle was swelling, so she went to the campfire to get Respondent. Respondent and Caleb both came to look at Complainant's ankle. Caleb is a volunteer firefighter, and he told Complainant that her ankle was likely sprained. Caleb and Respondent helped Complainant to stand, but she could not put weight on her foot. Respondent stated that he would go home and get his car so that he could drive Complainant back home.

Complainant, Sarah, and Angela recalled that Sarah and Angela helped Complainant to the front porch. Caleb brought Complainant an ice pack. Complainant recalled putting her leg in Sarah's lap with ice on it to keep it elevated. Angela said that Complainant asked for Tylenol or Ibuprofen, but none of them had any, so Angela went to the kitchen to get a shot of Caleb's good tequila to help with the pain. Angela said that she knew Complainant was "drunk" but that she was "not worried" about Complainant's level of intoxication and was more worried about the ankle.

Sarah stated that Complainant's eyes were glassy and that she seemed confused at this point in the evening. Sarah stated that Complainant asked her what had happened, which "puzzled" Sarah. Sarah recalled reminding Complainant that she had fallen on a loose stone. Caleb promised Complainant that he would get his landlord to fix it. Sarah stated that she was "worried that [Complainant] had hit her head or something, because she wasn't acting right."

Respondent Takes Complainant Home

Respondent came with his car, and Sarah, Angela, and Caleb helped Complainant come down the driveway to the street and get into the front seat. Sarah, Angela, and Caleb stayed at the party. The only witness that could provide an approximate time for this was Sarah, who recalled that she did not want to leave with them because she had intended to stay out until midnight and it was not yet midnight. However, Sarah did not recall what time it was when Michael left.

Complainant and Respondent agree that when they arrived back at Complainant's apartment, Respondent managed to find on-street parking almost right in front of Complainant's door. Complainant and Sarah's front door is on the first floor of the apartment building, which is an older house. Upon entering, it is necessary to go up a half flight of stairs into the living room. Respondent recalled assisting Complainant up the stairs and into her bedroom. Complainant does not recall getting from the front door to her bedroom.

Complainant recalled laying on her bed and feeling like the room was spinning. She believed she told Respondent that the room was spinning. Respondent told her that she needed to get ready for bed. Respondent took off Complainant's clothes, but not her underwear or bra. Both parties agree that Respondent gave Complainant a nightgown and then turned his back. Complainant does not recall taking off her bra, but knows that she woke up without it the next morning so assumes she must have. Respondent stated that Complainant took off her own bra.

Complainant recalled telling Respondent that she “feels awful,” and that she laid down in a “fetal position” after putting on the nightgown. Complainant stated that she does not remember the rest of the evening except for one moment, mentioned below.

Respondent stated that he found a pillow to put Complainant’s foot up, and that he got her a new bag of ice and some Tylenol. He stated that he decided to stay with Complainant in case she needed anything during the night. Respondent stated that he does not typically stay the night with Complainant, but he was worried about her and wanted to make sure she didn’t try to get up in the middle of the night and fall. Respondent stated that while he did not usually stay with Complainant, it was not unheard of for him to do so. Respondent keeps a pair of flannel pajama pants in Complainant’s dresser for this reason.

Respondent stated that he went to Complainant’s bathroom to put on his pajama pants, as is his usual practice. Respondent stated that Complainant feels strongly about “being modest,” and even though she was asleep, he felt “weird” about undressing in front of her. Respondent stated that when he finished getting dressed, he brushed his teeth and then climbed into bed with Complainant. Respondent stated that Complainant was facing the wall on her side, so he “spooned” with her as the “big spoon.”

Respondent recalled that Complainant “nuzzled” into him and thanked him for how well he treated her that evening. Respondent recalled that Complainant told him, “It’s stuff like this that makes me know that I’m going to marry you.” Complainant then rolled over and asked Respondent to “make love to” her.

Respondent stated that he was “surprised” by the request, because he and Complainant hadn’t discussed having sex since Spring Break. Respondent said he asked Complainant, “Are you sure? I don’t want our first time to be when you’re hurting,” referring to her ankle. Respondent stated that Complainant told him that the Tylenol had taken care of it and that she “can’t really feel it anyway.” Respondent stated that Complainant told him that she had been “thinking about it and was sure, that it was time.”

Respondent stated that he helped Complainant roll onto her back and adjust her foot on a pillow because he didn’t want to accidentally injure her. Respondent stated that they kissed for a few minutes and then had sex with Respondent on top. Respondent stated that Complainant helped him to penetrate her by “wiggling her hips” to make it easier for him to do so. Respondent stated that he did not use a condom because he didn't have one with him and he knew neither of them had any STDs. He stated that he ejaculated into a tissue.

Complainant did not recall the sexual encounter clearly, except that she stated that she had a "very clear memory" of Respondent stating, "this might hurt" before he penetrated her with his penis. Complainant recalled that Respondent was on top of her at the time. Complainant remembered "crying out," but could not remember anything else about the encounter.

Respondent stated that after the sexual encounter, he went to the bathroom to clean up and then laid back down with Complainant and continued to "spoon" with her.

During this time period, Sarah and Complainant exchanged text messages as follows:

Sarah, 12:20 a.m.: I'm home if you need me. How are you?

Complainant, 12:45 a.m.: terrible

Complainant has no memory of sending the text. Respondent does not recall seeing Complainant send a text, but he noted that it may have happened when he went to the bathroom.

Afterwards

The next morning, Complainant and Respondent woke up later than they planned. Respondent left to go home and change so that he could go to Mass. Complainant did not feel like going due to her ankle being swollen, so she stayed home and watched it on television.

According to Complainant, when she finally got out of bed to use the restroom, Complainant realized that she had had sex. She facetimes Respondent to ask about it. Complainant stated that she "confronted" Respondent and asked if they had sex, and that Respondent said that they had and that she was the one who initiated it. Complainant told Respondent that she was too drunk to initiate anything.

According to Respondent, Complainant facetimes him after he got home from church. Respondent stated that Complainant told him that she had been really drunk the night before and asked if they had sex. Respondent told Complainant that they had had sex because she had said she was "finally ready." Respondent recalled being disappointed that Complainant didn't seem to recall their "first time." Respondent told Complainant that it was "lovely" and that they will have to "try it again some time." Respondent stated that he was "confused" as to why she didn't remember it, but assumed it had something to do with the ankle injury.

Both parties agree that after this conversation, they spoke very little over the next week, and that on Friday, Complainant told Respondent that she didn't think they should see each other anymore.

Conclusion

This matter is referred for adjudication through the hearing process.

Successfully defended a school district on charges by a former student relating to sexual abuse by a former teacher.

Successfully represented a school district in federal court against claims of bullying, disability discrimination under ADA and Section 504, and sexual harassment under Title IX.

Misapplied school foundation funding

Obtained a favorable decision in a $40 million lawsuit filed on behalf of three large metropolitan school districts against the Ohio Department of Education claiming that ODE misapplied the statutory school foundation funding formula to the detriment of the school districts.

Jessica L. Galanos

Of Counsel

Jessica Galanos is a former university administrator and litigator with experience in the areas of student affairs, student conduct, regulatory compliance and employment law. She regularly advises higher education clients on a variety of legal issues, drawing from her own experience working at a large public university and defending universities as a litigator in both the private and public sectors.

Jessica works with colleges and universities to comply with Title VII, Title IX, the Clery Act, and various other federal and state regulations. She routinely conducts impartial investigations, reviews policies and procedures, and advises higher education clients on how to avoid and navigate complex litigation matters. Jessica also has experience training administrators, staff and attorneys on how to address sexual misconduct matters.

Prior to joining Bricker & Eckler, Jessica served as an Assistant Director and Deputy Title IX Coordinator for Illinois State University, as an Assistant Attorney General in the Office of Attorney General for the State of Illinois, and as the Legislative Assistant Inspector General for the Office of Executive Inspector General for the Agencies of the Illinois Governor. Jessica has also represented clients in a variety of litigation matters while working at a private law firm in Springfield, Illinois.

Robert T. Kent

Of Counsel

Rob Kent is a higher education attorney with experience navigating civil rights, Title IX and other compliance issues on behalf of colleges and universities. He is skilled in managing student and staff complaints, overseeing and conducting investigations fairly and efficiently, and working with both internal and external parties to be sure investigators and administrators are both accountable and transparent.

Rob collaborates with university leaders to administer awareness regarding services and resources; build channels of communication within the university for better collaboration with support services, human resources and police; and manage local, state and national media inquiries. Additionally, he assists with training and education among students and staff and provides guidance on overall strategy regarding campus-related compliance.

Rob is a former in-house attorney with Michigan State University, where he effectively managed a variety of legal matters. Most recently, he served in the university's Office for Civil Rights and Title IX Education and Compliance, leading a new major administrative unit, instituting new programs and services, growing the employee team, interpreting and implementing changing regulations, and managing an unprecedented complaint volume under constant scrutiny.

Joshua D. Nolan

Partner & Higher Education Chair

Joshua Nolan is a higher education attorney with a litigation background. Throughout his career, he has helped numerous universities, public institutions and private colleges handle many facets of education law, including Title IX, and he manages sensitive litigation and administrative actions for individuals, institutions, and universities.

Josh understands that higher education law involves complicated and personal issues, so he takes an unbiased, professional and knowledgeable approach to identify, resolve and prevent such issues. Because he has more than 10 years of experience as a college administrator, he knows the intricacies of academic cultures and is able to anticipate risks and alleviate threats for his clients before they become problematic. He strives to empower his clients to handle difficult situations, leading them to a reasonable and compliant resolution.

Specifically, Josh's experience includes risk management, privacy law compliance, campus conduct, First Amendment issues and student mental health intervention. He has performed investigations regarding sexual harassment and misconduct for both corporations and educational institutions. He manages Title IX, FERPA and Clery Act compliance and has drafted and reviewed student conduct, speech codes and crisis management policies and procedures. Likewise, he advocates for clients in both state and federal court and administrative hearings for regulatory, criminal and commercial litigation issues.
